Township working hard to preserve $700,000 grant

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Antioch Township officials are working to preserve a $702,000 OSRAD (open space land acquisition development) grant offered by the Illinois Department of Natural Resources (IDNR).

"I never thought it would be such a difficult task to find open land in the township," said Trustee Claudette Skvarce. "We're at a crucial point here. There is nothing left here for future generations."

The township will lose the grant money if it doesn't have a parcel under contract by June 30. Township officials are currently looking into purchasing a 68-acre parcel located off of Grass Lake Road, but the property is too expensive for the township to afford, even with the grant.

Realtor Jack Fields found the property and has been working with the seller on behalf of the township.

The hope is to work a two-step process that would allow the township 30 acres with a two-year window for the other 38 acres to be paid off at $836,000.

Township attorney Larry Clark wasn't sure of the legality of such an arrangement.

"You have to purchase property for a proposed use (as a municipality), and not just to resell it," he said.

Steve Smouse, township supervisor, added that there could be no penalty imposed on the 30-acre portion in the event the township could neither sell off the land nor come up with the money for the second half of the total property.

Skvarce said she'd like to see an endowment program set up, an idea she garnered from the Lake County Forest Preserve District, that would allow residents to donate either money or property to the township for open space acquisition for future generations.

"I feel there are people who love this area and would like to do something like that," she said.

Despite potential difficulties in hashing out a deal with the seller, Trustee Kevin Schoudel said, "It's our committee's (land acquisition) recommendation that we move forward."

Village of Antioch Trustee Dorothy Larson said if it's both legal and financial feasible, she would like to see the village join the township in an intergovernmental agreement for the purchase of the second 38 acres.

"The use is what's critical to me," she said. "I'm fine if it's not within the village boundary as long as there is joint use for the property."

The vote by the township board was unanimously in favor of trying to acquire the property subject to the township's recommendation, after research, as to the legality of the discussed two-step purchasing process.

Questions circle turmoil in village

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

To say "it's a jungle out there" is more than just a cliché in the Village of Antioch.

"The monkeys are running the zoo," said Trustee Dorothy Larson to news that village administrator Mike Haley resigned and cleaned out his desk on Tuesday, June 10 at 10 a.m. "I can't even fathom how we're going to get through this summer."

Word of Haley's retirement comes in the wake of Mayor Taso Maravelas' decision, with support of four village board members, to dissolve the community development department and eliminate Glenda Sorensen's position as director.

When that action was taken, village attorney Bob Long said the decision was made because there was no official community development department in village code. Despite that claim, two village officials anonymously confirmed that Maravelas told members of the redevelopment commission at its last meeting that he had wanted to eliminate Sorensen and that dissolving the department was the means by which that was done.

At that same redevelopment commission meeting, Don Skidmore, commission chair and member since 1985 and Roger Sorensen (no relation to Glenda) officially resigned their positions.

"I submitted my resignation to the village board, but it held off acting on it," said Skidmore. "My reasons for leaving are personal and were shared with the mayor and the village board."

Skidmore said the village had tried, without success, to convince him against resigning his position.

Roger Sorensen, a redevelopment commission member for over 10 years, said he was unhappy about the personnel decision made regarding Glenda Sorensen.

"I meant no disrespect to the mayor or to the trustees on either side," he said. "Nor did I do it because of the content of the meeting. I had my letter of resignation written and decided to resign to the commission as opposed to the village board."

Roger Sorensen said what he found most upsetting was that the mayor and several trustees showed up at the meeting after action regarding the community development department and Glenda Sorensen was already taken.

"No one (mayor or village board) consulted the (redevelopment) commission," he said. "They didn't value our opinion or position. I didn't think that showing up after the fact was the right thing."

He explained that it had been the on the redevelopment commission's recommendation that the community development department had been established with Claude LeMere as the first director. He said the position was funded with TIF (tax incremental funding) district money to improve Antioch's downtown.

"This is all part of the village and the village ultimately has the say over what happens," said Roger Sorensen. "However, the establishment of the redevelopment commission was a key element of the work we had done."

Though Mary Turner, village trustee and Haley's sister, initially said she didn't think she should make any comment, later said that as trustee she has concerns for the Village of Antioch.

"The mayor's office has decided to dissolve the community development department with no back up plan, and now there is no village administrator to perform the executive duties of the village," she said. "When you have wonderful people like Don Skidmore and Roger Sorensen resign from the redevelopment commission after many years of service because of a lack of communication, the residents should be concerned."

Turner added that she feels it is important that the mayor and board be held to a "higher standard."

She said, "This is not a personal business. This is a governmental office of the Village of Antioch. We are accountable to the residents."

Turner additionally touted Haley's reputation and noted that despite his being her brother, he has worked in government all of his adult life and was doing a good job for the village.

She added, "I don't know what's

Tentative 2004 budget required for school year's start

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Antioch Community High School District 117 board of education approved a tentative budget for 2004 as is necessary to begin the 2003-04 school year in the fall.

Business manager Bill Ahlers said, "We have to approve a tentative budget as there won't be a public inspection until sometime in August with board approving the official budget sometime in September."

Board member Dave Dziki asked if it was typical for the district to have a 20 percent increase over four years.

Ahlers said it was not unusual given the growth of the district.

"Grayslake, Mundelein and Warren, which probably has it the worst, are all in the same boat with Antioch," he said.

Despite that, Ahlers said he predicted a balanced budget.

Dziki still questioned the increase based on the number of students the district has added, but said an enrollment increase of 200 to 300 students is expected.

"There's a big difference between 200 and 300," said Vickie Axton. "That's a difference of four teachers. It's a lot."

Principal Jon Crawford said not only are the school's enrollment numbers increasing, but the costs of utilities and textbooks are climbing as well.

Ahlers said in the past the district had room to add students without the need to change the district's operations, and the cost per student actually went down under those circumstances.

"Beyond that, additional students are more expensive because we have to do things like hire new teachers," he said.

Board president Phil Delany said some cost increases are outside of the board's control.

"Some things go out to public bid and you get back the bids you get back," he said. "With transportation, we only got two bids back. If we had gotten 15 bids back, it may have been more competitive."

Special education costs have seen a steeper slope of increase than regular services and the number of students requiring special education services has increased 50 percent since 1999.

"Transportation for special ed. students is higher than that of regular students," said Ahlers. "The buses are smaller and hold fewer passengers. It costs more."

Six additional regular teachers, one Allendale teacher as well as a principal and assistant principal for the second high school have been hired in the past year.

Antioch chamber joins others in picnic

Neighboring chambers part of the event

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

For the first time, Antioch's Chamber of Commerce and Industry is joining forces with the chambers of Grayslake, Round Lake, Lake Villa/Lindenhurst and Fox Lake for combined picnic to be held on Thursday, June 26.

Festivities will take place from 5-7 p.m. at Northshore Park, Hook Lake in Round Lake. Last year, 150 businesses attended the outing, sans those from Antioch.

"This is an excellent opportunity for our businesses to reach out to other business outside of Antioch," said Barbara Porch, executive director of the chamber. "We don't always have a good idea of what's outside of our own community, and this gives us an opportunity to find out."

The picnic is open and free of charge to chamber members. According to Porch, there will be brats, soda, wine and beer for refreshments as well as recreational activities.

"There is a little golf competition where they float a hole in the lake and you have to try to make a shot, and there is a 50/50 raffle that goes to cover the cost of the event," she said.

Porch said she hopes Antioch is well represented by the business community.

"This is also a good way for two different but related business to get together," she said. "It can be advantageous for someone who sells doors and windows to make connections with someone who sells drapery. There are all sorts of ways to expand and promote business."

State bank shows heart through donations

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

While the Run for Freedom is essentially held for the enjoyment of the community, its sponsor, State Bank of The Lakes, always makes a charitable donation of the proceeds of the Fourth of July run/fun walk.

This year the donation will go back to the Village of Antioch with the purchase of four heart defibrillators, three to go to the Antioch Police Department and one that will stay at the bank. The defibrillators have already been purchased and will be on the race route on July 4.

"Some of the police squad cars already have defibrillators and I think this donation will put one in each of the cars," said Mary Lou Toomey, marketing officer for the bank. "It's important for these devices to be in places where there is a lot of public traffic so keeping one here at the bank will be helpful for all of Lake Street."

Toomey added that while CPR training is recommended to use the defibrillators that they are "user friendly" and increase the survival chances of cardiac arrest victims. She said, statistically, chance of survival declines by 10 percent each minute without defibrillation.

"We felt strongly about making the AED (automated external defibrillator) units more readily available as heart disease is so prevalent in today's society," said Roger Manderscheid, executive vice president. "Whatever we can do to increase a victim's chance of survival is worth doing."

The donation is being made in memory of a good friend of the bank, Tim Osmond, who died in December of heart failure.

This is the ninth annual race the bank has sponsored.

The course winds through

Antioch residential streets and is a sanctioned USATF event. It both begins and ends at the intersection of Cunningham and Poplar streets, one block west of Main Street.

Registration is underway at the bank located at 440 Lake St. until July 3. Pre-registration is $15, $20 on race day. Immediate family members who pre-register can do so for a $45 family rate.

All entrants will receive a T-shirt, course map and refreshments that are included in the registration fee cost.

Runners begin the race at 8 a.m. and walkers at 8:05 a.m. Awards will be given to the top three male and female overall finishers as well as the top three finishers in 14 age categories. Over 1,200 participants are expected this year.

For more information, call 847-395-2700. Applications are also available at the bank's Web site www.thisisyourbank.com.

St. Peter rummage sale shoots for top spot

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

It doesn't have far to go to earn the top spot in Lake County for rummage sales. Last year, the St. Peter rummage sale nearly caught the Lake Forest sale with $121,500 in sales.

With a full week to go before its 44th annual rummage sale begins, organizers have brought in a record-breaking number of large items and filled the school with small items available for bargain hunters.

Treasure hunting will begin on Thursday, June 26 from 6 a.m.-9 p.m. and will continue throughout the weekend. The sale runs a full four days with the doors opening at 8 a.m. on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

In a mere three weeks, donations have been collected, sized, sorted and priced. Event organizer Claudette Skvarce keeps about 100 volunteers busy sorting and marking everything.

"All of the clothing is sorted by size," she said. "You can just go to a rack of your size and don't have to worry about picking through things that are the wrong size."

Nicer clothing items are downstairs in the "French room." Antiques, gifts and artwork can also be found downstairs.

Upstairs is home to crafts, linens, toys, a children's clothing room, a men's clothing room and two women's clothing rooms. The gymnasium is filled with miscellaneous items that don't fit neatly into any one category as well as furniture.

Anything that won't be hurt by the elements is outside.

Ardeen Harris, who helps organize the event for St. Peter Church, said, "This is a great place for young couples or families just starting out to be able to furnish a house reasonably."

In all, the St. Peter School is stuffed to the brim with computers, appliances, exercise equipment, bicycles, toys, art, antiques, clothing and vehicles. There's probably even a kitchen sink looking for a new home.

"We have about the same number of large items (boats, cars, campers) that we did last year," said Skvarce. "Overall, I think we have more things, though. You can see how filled up we are and we haven't even picked up the things we have stored at the Abbey."

All mechanical and electronic items are tested to ensure they are in working order.

"This is a very generous area," Harris added. "We get a lot of nice things each year."

Items that are not sold at the St. Peter sale are turned over to various other philanthropic organizations including the American Cancer Federation, St. Vincent DePaul in Racine, Wis., Purple Heart Veterans and the Methodist church in Wilmet, Wis.

Last minute opportunities abound

Just because it has been marked on the calendar for months doesn't mean it isn't worth doing. Some of the best opportunities are those that come banging down the door at the last minute.

Rep. JoAnn Osmond (R-Antioch) is hosting Senior Expo 2003 on Saturday, June 14 from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. at the Antioch/Lake Villa Township Center. There is no cost and both seniors and their families are encouraged to participate.

There will be both seminars available as well as stationary exhibitors made up of both state agencies and private companies that provide senior services.

Speakers throughout the day include Osmond, 10-10:15 a.m.; Arthritis Foundation of Illinois, 10:30-11 a.m.; State Treasurer Judy Baar Topinka, 11:15-11:45 a.m.; Abbott Labs, noon-12:30 p.m.; Catholic Charities, 12:45-1:15 p.m.; Affordable

OUR TOWN

Housing Corp of Illinois, 1:30-2 p.m.; Vista Health, 2:15-2:45 p.m.; and closing with Osmond at 3 p.m.

The agencies and companies on hand will be ready to provide information, answer questions and offer one-on-one consultations. The Antioch/Lake Villa Township Center is northeast of the intersection of Deep Lake and Grass Lake roads.

For more information, contact Osmond's office at 847-838-6200. Let's hope the weather is nice.

In addition to the Antioch Arts and Crafts Faire sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Industry, the Antioch Community High School's dance team is sponsoring a car wash on both Saturday and Sunday, June 14-15 from 9 a.m.-3 p.m.

Money raised will help send the dance team to the Northern Illinois University dance camp later this summer.

Last year, the team won state championship in AAA Kick and placed third in AAA Funk. It has qualified for state competition for the past several years.

The car wash is being held at the high school by the circle drive of the front entrance north of Route 173 on Route 83.

Antioch prepares for June 14 Miss pageants

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Antioch's 2003 Miss, Junior Miss and Little Miss Pageant will take place on June 22 at the Antioch Community High School auditorium at 6:30 p.m. Admission will be $2 per person.

"The Village of Antioch would like to thank Jeni Blake, Melissa Zeman and Reagan Martin for their wonderful representation as our 2002 queens," said Laurie Stahl, director of the parks and recreation department.

Like last year, the village is rewarding the new Miss Antioch with scholarship money.

This year's total is $1,700, nearly $400 more than last year.

"We would also like to thank everyone who helped sponsor this scholarship including Raymond Chevrolet ($500), Antioch Rotary Club ($500), Antioch Junior Women's Club ($250), First National Bank Employee-Owned ($100), State Bank of The Lakes ($100), Lyons & Ryan Ford ($100), the W.D. Blake & Sons ($100) and Rep. JoAnn Osmond ($50)," Stahl added.

DUI

Gary S. York, 38, of 34889 Catherine, Ingleside, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on June 5 at 1:02 a.m. on Main St. at Buena Terrace.

He was locked traveling 45 mph in 30-mph zone. When stopped, the officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on his breath. York failed all field sobriety testing.

He was arrested, at which point the communications center told the arresting officer that York was wanted by the Lake County Sheriff's Office for battery carrying a $10,000 warrant (10 percent applies).

York was issued citations for speeding and DUI. He agreed to chemical testing yielding .086 blood alcohol concentration. He was issued an additional citation for DUI over .08.

A $1,000 personal recognizance bond released York on the DUI charges, though he was placed in a cell to await transportation to bond court for the outstanding warrant.

No valid driver's license

Sharon L. Knarr, 43, of 428 Filweber Court, Antioch, was arrested for driving without a valid driver's license on June 4 at 8:14 a.m. on Deep Lake Road south of North Ave.

She was locked traveling 61 mph in a 45-mph zone. A check through LEADS returned information that her driver's license expired November 2002.

Knarr was arrested and issued citations for speeding and driving without a valid driver's license. She was released on personal recognizance pending her July 9 court date.

Uriel Brito, 21, of 278 W. Paul St., Waukegan, was arrested for driving without a valid driver's license on June 3 at 3:50 p.m. on Deep Lake Road at Depot St.

He was locked traveling 56 in a 45-mph zone. Brito told police he had neither a driver's license nor insurance.

A check through LEADS/NCIC/SOS confirmed he had no valid driver's license in Illinois. Brito was arrested and issued citations for speeding, operating an uninsured vehicle and driving without a valid license.

He was released on a $2,000 recognizance bond pending his July 9 court date.

Carmel breaks ground for new science wing

By SONJA SCHNEIDER
Staff Reporter

Officials at Carmel High School in Mundelein broke ground for its new science wing after years of discussion and negotiations.

The ceremonial groundbreaking brought out alumni, parents, faculty and students who participated in digging up the blessed soil.

Funds for the $4.7 million project came from donations from local corporations, parents and the community.

"We would not be here today if you (donors) didn't catch our dream and your generosity made us be here today," said Carmel's president, Sister Mary Frances McLaughlin of the Sisters Charity of the Blessed Virgin Mary. "It is a very exciting day for Carmel."

Carmel's new science wing will open in 2004.

Students are happy as well, since they will have the chance to use the new space—although seniors are a bit jealous.

"Students are excited for next year," said George Ratten, director of development at Carmel. "They will start off in the old labs and move into the new science wing half way through the year."

Carmel has struggled with the demands students put in place for the science departments.

"One of the issues we have had to deal with is with the curriculum demands on science," Ratten said. "This will greatly expand our science department."

Set in the back of the school, the addition will connect with two wings of the existing building and a walkway through a courtyard. The science wing will add 23,600 feet of more space.

There will be 10 laboratories in all including five life science, two chemistry, and two physics labs and one earth science lab.

"The labs will be state-of-the-art for now, incorporating a projection area for teaching and networked computer technology," said Ratten.

Three science prep rooms will also be incorporated for staging experiments and for proper chemical storage.

At the present time there is no name for the new science wing. The private Catholic school will accept a name from a company with a substantial amount of money to donate.

In the school's 40-year history this is only the second building project.

"This is a good way to close our 40 year history," Ratten said. "We are ready to roll."

More than 11,000 students have graduated from the school since its opening.

Almost 90 percent of Carmel students take four years of science.

More than a quarter of the alumni are employed in a science, engineering or medical related field.

Local Dentist Graduates From Advanced Training

The Las Vegas Institute For Advanced Dental Studies

"Setting the Standards for Excellence"

For a lot of people, a beautiful white smile can be achieved in a matter of a few weeks instead of years. How is this possible? This can be done through a conservative technique that reshapes the teeth and fits them with porcelain laminates that are metal-free, and look and feel like the real thing. Many people can now improve their smiles without the necessity of braces. These natural looking restorations can create the perfect smile that may be desired by many...instantly!

A local dentist, Dr. Brian Gniadek has recently completed post-graduate training at the prestigious Las Vegas Institute for Advanced Dental Studies in Nevada. Dr. Gniadek completed the Advanced Functional Aesthetics program under the world-renowned Dr. William Dickerson, a Fellow of the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry. While at the Institute, Dr. Gniadek underwent intensive training including completing a case on a live patient under the direction of the teachers.

Dr. Gniadek is one of the few dentists from the area that has completed a program that teaches these skills. Dr. Gniadek's commitment to excellence is emphasized by undergoing this training to provide patients with only the best restorations and care possible. By undergoing this training, Dr. Gniadek has achieved the clinical ability that few dentists in the country are even aware exist.

For more information, call LVI at (888)584-3237 or Dr. Gniadek at 847-265-9070.

coming next and neither do the employees."

One anonymous village official said, "You never know what's coming from day to day. Morale is at an all-time low. Most everyone is trying to work for the good of the village, but it's difficult to do with this atmosphere."

Glenda Sorensen had little comment to make except that she was "totally shocked" on the morning she heard that her position and the department she headed were being eliminated.

"There are a lot of things that have been left undone," she said.

Of his resignation, Haley said it was by mutual consent.

"The mayor and I decided it would be better for the village if I resigned," he said. "I will do whatever the mayor and the board ask me to do in terms of transitioning someone into the position."

Trustee Barbara Porch said, "Over the past two years, Mike has done a good job leading the village in a good financial direction, but there were obviously differences that they couldn't resolve. It's unfortunate that this is being done somewhat backwards with no one ready to step into the positions. The village obviously suffers from the lapse."

Since Maravelas took office in 2001, Tim Wells, former village administrator, and LeMere, former community development director, were replaced by Haley and Glenda Sorensen, respectively, both of the mayor's choosing. These positions now sit vacant.

Charlie Watkins, former chief of police, Joe Hueber, former superintendent of streets and Sherry Hoban, former village treasurer, all of whom were department heads, have all tendered their resignations in the past two years.

As of noon on Wednesday, June 11, the mayor could not be reached for comment.

SCUBA equals Bible adventure

Children of the age from first-sixth grade are invited to "dive into God's love" at Christian Life Fellowship's SCUBA—Super Cool Undersea Bible Adventure—vacation Bible school.

The program, scheduled for June 23-27 from 9 a.m.-noon, is free of charge.

Pastor Jeff Brussaly said, "This year our church is bubbling with excitement as we dive into vacation Bible school. On this adventure, kids won't find any boring reminders of tedious schoolwork."

Each day, participants will sing songs, play games, and enjoy treats they create themselves at the "dive-in diner." Additionally, they will meet "Scuba-Do" and "Kapt'n Kris."

"This year we will also be collecting a barrel full of money to send to needy children overseas," said Brussaly.

For more information, call Christian Life Fellowship at 847-395-8572. The church is located just north of Route 173 on Deep Lake Road.

Library friends host 'Antiques Road Show'

Some traditions aren't as deeply rooted in history as others. Nonetheless, the Antioch Library Friends are bringing history into the three-year tradition by hosting its own Antiques Road Show appraisal luncheon.

This third annual luncheon will be held at the Colony House Restaurant in Trevor, Wis. on Aug. 14. Deadline for registration is Aug. 4. While this may seem a long way off, there is limited space available.

Certified appraiser Karl Gates will appraise one piece per guest attending. Appraisals can be given on a wide variety of antiques from jewelry and china to knickknacks and other family heirlooms.

The cost is $20 for members of the Antioch Library Friends. The cost to non-members is $25. This price includes both the lunch and the appraisal of one item.

Registration forms are available at the library. It is also permissible to mail reservations, along with payment, to: Antioch Library Friends, 757 Main St., Antioch, IL 60002.

Entrée preference should be noted. Choices include tenderloin tips, grilled chicken breast with white wine and artichoke sauce or grilled tilapia, a mild fish.

Rice pilaf, tossed salad, vegetable, muffins, dessert and either coffee or tea will be served with the entrée. Tax and tip are also included in the cost.

For more information, call Anne Schultz, secretary and vice president of Antioch Library Friends, at 847-838-1359.

The word is out

Call it doing your homework. The Lupus Foundation of Illinois has done a remarkable job in spreading the word about Lupus, a chronic autoimmune disease that can affect any part of the body. Lupus strikes when the immune system becomes hyperactive, attacking healthy tissues and organs. It's not known what causes it, but people, especially women, should be aware of the warning signs: unexplained fever over 100-degrees for more than a couple of days, painful or swollen joints, or even numbness or paleness in the fingers or toes.

Ten years ago, the Lupus Foundation of Illinois decided to start a golf outing on the southside of Chicago in memory of Tim Meehan, who died rather suddenly from the disease.

"We wanted to start promoting awareness. The deaths from Lupus have actually increased over the past year or so," said Lindenhurst native Mary Erl, one of the Lupus Foundation volunteer board of directors and 22-year survivor of the disease. "There have been some breakthroughs with treatments using stem cells. But it's so risky. You could have symptoms, but they might be underlying because lupus can mimic other diseases. Doctors don't know how prevalent lupus is."

The foundation has held the golf outing annually in honor of Meehan. For the first eight years, it was held south of Chicago. But for the last two, it has made its way to Lake County to Brae Loch G.C.

Last year, the Lupus Golf Outing at the Grayslake course raised about $5,000. Erl said this year's event, which had about 70 golfers, probably raised about the same amount if not more.

Word of mouth has been a big part of getting awareness out to people curious, or who are even plagued by lupus.

Mundelein's Andrea Lamb has played in the first two golf outings Lupus has held at Brae Loch. "I'm a friend of Mary (Erl) and wanted to show my support," said Lamb, who plays golf regularly. "Word of mouth is so important. This is for a great cause. Plus, it's a lot of fun with the golf and chance to win prizes."

Libertyville's Kim Eriksen was playing in his first Lupus outing at Brae Loch.

"You said it—word of mouth. I learned about the golf outing from some friends," said Eriksen, also a regular golfer. "And knowing the outing is so close to home, I can tell some of my friends and try and draw in more people for next year. Plus, I like to give back. I try and play in as many fund-raising events as possible."

Anyone curious about lupus can check out the web site at www.lupusil.org.

The Lupus Foundation's big fund-raiser for the past two years is a 5K walk in Chicago every fall. This year, the event will take place on Sept. 7.

"That's our 'main event'," said Erl. "Last year, we raised six figures."

Erl also said that the foundation wouldn't hold a golf outing on the southside this year.

"We'll try and spread out to the west, too, for next year," she said. "We'll have one again at Brae Loch, but we want to draw in little pockets of interest from all over the Chicagoland area."

The event at Brae Loch featured numerous prizes. American Airlines served as the main corporate sponsor. Skates, the Chicago Wolves hockey team mascot, was also on hand.

John Phelps can be reached at 847-223-8161, Ext. 132; fax (847) 223-8810; or e-mail at edit@lnd.com.

Corsairs magnificent run comes to an end

By MIKE KRIZMAN
Lakeland Correspondent

When the Carmel volleyball team took to the court in the I.H.S.A. State quarterfinal match-up at Hoffman Estates High School, they didn't have their typical slow start.

The Corsairs jumped all over Naperville North in the I.H.S.A. State quarterfinal match-up, starting with a 6-0 lead that eventually ballooned to 11-4.

"When we went up on them, we were like 'What's going on here?'" senior blocker Joe Hammer said. "Then they came back on us."

Carmel eventually lost the match 12-15, 8-15, ending a season in which the Corsairs finished 35-2 and became the first team at the school since 1999 to make it to a state tournament.

"Going into the tournament, people kind of questioned whether or not we should be here because of our schedule," head coach Jon Baffico said. "I think we proved what we were capable of. If you take that first match when we were up 11-4 at one point, it's a different match. Naperville North got the confidence after coming back and we didn't get going in the second game until it was too late."

All season, Carmel had many games where they didn't get going until later on in the contest. This time it was reversed.

"You couldn't have scripted a better beginning," Baffico said. "I get a little nervous when we don't serve first because we tend to start out slow. I didn't think we'd start out 6-0."

But with Carmel leading 11-4, things took a turn for the worst.

"We made error after error and it just kind of snowballed from there," senior outside hitter Phil Bartnicki said.

Naperville North outside hitters Zach Splitt and Matt Hankey had 7 of the team's 21 kills. Baffico credited the two on Naperville North's comeback.

"Our game plan was to stop their outside hitters Hankey and Splitt," Baffico said. "They did a good job running Hankey through the middle and our blockers were a little late getting there. He did a good job putting the ball away."

"Their best players gave their best performance," Baffico added. "They hit balls where we weren't. I don't think it's because we were out of position. They just made great plays."

Carmel's 2003 volleyball season was highlighted with a number of monumental achievements. Along with the program's first trip to state, the Corsairs won the tournament at Conant High School, knocking off state power Lyons in the process. The Corsairs were also kings of the north suburbs, winning the Lake County Tournament.

"I'm very proud of this group," Baffico said. "We set five goals at the beginning of the season and one of those goals was to get downstate."

"These guys had faith that they could win and when you have that, you'll be successful."

Grayslake passing 'lacrosse' examination

By MIKE KRIZMAN
Lakeland Correspondent

In much of the late 1980s and all of the 1990s, soccer gained tremendous popularity among the high school ranks. The IHSA now recognizes a state champion on both the boy's and girl's side.

Many in the Grayslake community are now hoping that one day the IHSA will recognize another sport that has hit the Midwest in recent years. Lacrosse is gaining popularity throughout the Chicago area and even a few places downstate. Grayslake High School started their lacrosse program four years ago, and according to team president Kevin Murphy, the team is expected to have close to 100 kids by next season.

"We went from 21 kids last year to 42 kids this year," Murphy said. "The projection for next year is close to 100."

With that many, the number of teams within the program is expected to rise from two to three, with a freshman/sophomore squad, junior varsity team and varsity squad forming by next season.

But two years ago, the program almost went into extinction. The team was in need of a head coach if they were going to even have a season. That's when Howard Kravets stepped in. Kravets, currently a math teacher at Grayslake High School and the assistant varsity basketball coach at Deerfield, had played lacrosse at Indiana University. He became the head coach for the team and just finished his second season at the helm.

"I felt the program needed some direction and I felt that I was the best person for that," Kravets said. "The team didn't have a coach the season before. I thought about it and stepped in at the last minute."

The program is sanctioned by the high school with a letter giving the team authorization to say they are part of Grayslake High School. Murphy and Kravets would like to eventually see the team become a club sport at the school to help ease some of the financial burdens that comes with playing a sport.

Murphy, who's son Patrick played on the team all four years of high school, said that the entire team is screened for drugs and that their academic eligibility policy is even tougher than the high school's. Only one player was kept from playing because of grades this year.

Murphy wanted everyone drug tested to put a few rumors to bed and to discourage usage among the team.

"There were rumors that there were kids on the team using drugs," Murphy said. "That's when we decided to test everyone. Everyone tested 100 percent drug free."

Murphy said that he was ready to receive some backlash for the drug testing, but the parents were very supportive.

"The parents thought it was a great idea," Murphy said. "We're just not going to tolerate [drug usage]."

Grayslake competes in a league of Chicago area teams mostly from Lake and northern Cook Counties. The western suburbs are also starting to take part with the league climbing to 42 teams this past season.

The freshman/sophomore team finished 3-6-1 while the junior varsity team ended the season at 5-7 with wins against St. Viator, Vernon Hills and Stevenson.

The league along with Grayslake's program, are expected to grow next season and Murphy couldn't be happier.

"Lacrosse is the alternative spring sport," he said. "It's fast-paced and always moving. It's for guys who aren't good enough to play baseball or aren't fast enough to run track. That's why so many kids are interested in playing."

Future promising for Selle, Sequoits

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Opportunity came knocking quickly for Antioch High Head Softball Coach Stacy Selle.

After just two years as an assistant, she was named head softball coach for the Sequoits. The team had a successful season, finishing 16-19 overall and second-place in the North Suburban Lake Division at 7-3. The conference wins included a victory over over Lake and overall NSC champ Mundelein.

"I always wanted to be a coach because so many good coaches have impacted me," said Selle, who played softball at Grant High.

Senior first baseman-pitcher Kelly Wells leads a group of three All-North Suburban Conference players. Juniors Carolyn Cooley at third base and Katie Korecek at second were also selected to the All-NSC team. Junior center fielder Jackie Schmit and freshman left fielder Jill Norwick were named honorable-mention.

"Next year will be good because we have a number of juniors who will be seniors and are good leaders," Selle said.

Catcher Brittany Behrendt and Cathlyn Heneberry join Wells as players who have graduated. Wells led the team in hitting average. Frosh Norwick led in hitting for extra-base hits.

ACHS was second in the NSC Lake behind Mundelein, although the Sequoits beat the Mustangs 2-1 late in the season. "They did not have (pitcher) Rachel Cleaveland, but it was a good win," Selle said.

Antioch lost to Johnsburg in the first round of the regional tourney, 5-3.

Eligible to return next year are: Amanda Axe, Lauren Scarbrough, soph Kate Hofeldt, and freshman Laura Elstrom and Kim Schmit.

Amanda's performance in the goal led the soccer team to a regional championship over Prairie Ridge. Her 12 saves and impressive stop in the shoot out was a key factor in the Sequoia's first regional championship in three years. Amanda also stopped three shots in a victory over Crystal Lake South.

Results

The Lindenhurst Fire under-10 girl's soccer team just missed winning first place in their pool by a point at the McDonalds Hurricane Classic held in Oak Brook. The Fire first cruised past the Hinsdale Hurricane Gold team 5-1. Sara Dreyer and Jessica Ring scored two goals apiece while Jessica Liszka added the other. Then, the Fire defeated the Downers Grove Roadrunners by the same 5-1 score. Ring scored twice while Becky Hill and Cassie Breneisen added single goals. The Fire suffered their first loss of the tournament, a 3-1 defeat to the Hinsdale Hurricanes White team. Ring accounted for the only Fire goal.

After the Hurricane Classic, the Fire got back on the winning side by shutting out the Mt. Prospect Green White Avalanche, 3-0. Breneisen, Ashley Neubeck and Ring scored the goals. Next came a 6-4 victory over Northwest United out of Crystal Lake. Ring was on fire, scoring four goals. Liszka and Breneisen added the other scores. The Fire then suffered a 2-0 loss to Barrington Blue, but then rebounded in a big way with an 11-0 whitewash over the Arlington Aces. Against Arlington, Breneisen scored four goals and Ring three. Anne Marie Brugioni, Becky Hill, Liszka and Eleni Kaitson added the other goals. Dishing out assists included Kate Arends with four and Ring two. The Fire continued their winning ways with another convincing 14-0 victory over the Elgin Kickers. Ring scored an unbelievable eight goals, Dreyer three and Neubeck, Hill and Arends one each.

The Fire wound up winning their division while finishing 9-1 in league play. The Watermelon tournament in Rockford June 20-22 will conclude their season.

Determined ArtWorks staff offer fun options this summer

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

The reaction is a typical one as one visits Chain O' Lakes ArtWorks. "The kids love it. It allows kids to be creative. The adults say that it is small, but the kids like it because it is so cozy," said Grant Township resident Kathy Ferrigan.

Ferrigan brought four children, who enjoyed the story telling talents of Jim Pfitzer at the Ingleside location.

Another fan is Jackie Halloran. "We come once a week and our family has a membership," Halloran said.

"They have a lot of things to draw on," said Janice Sacramento.

It has been a year now for the Chain O' Lakes ArtWorks Children's Museum at the Washington Street facility in Ingleside. After being dropped by the Village of Fox Lake for funding after three years, the facility is now at 130 Washington Street. Rhonda Heaney was its first director, and the service became known as home of "Bubba the Art Bus." After multiple directors under village ownership, White and Barb Thomas were named.

"It has come full circle. I remember when they were a not-for-profit. Rhonda came to us looking for a location after looking in Barrington and Round Lake," said former Fox Lake Mayor Jim Pappas.

Pappas, as mayor, (he was also on the ArtWorks' board of directors) supported the funding of the facility, starting in 1998, leasing the building at 23 South Street. It has moved several times since, to a storefront location, then to a location on Thillen Drive owned by Fox Lake.

In June, 2000 the board determined "that it is in the best interest of the residents of the Village of Fox Lake if the Children's Art Museum would continue to function at a facility owned and operated by the village and will continue to operate under the supervision and direction of the village parks and recreation department," according to a resolution.

The facility continued to give the village acclaim, as Heaney won a YMCA Women of Achievement Award in 2001.

But in 2002, that village support ended, as ArtWorks was moved with help of village staff. Present Mayor Nancy Koske praised the transition work done by Paul Jakstas, village project manager, in assisting the transition to the Chain O' Lakes ArtWorks. The village donated $1,600 to that effort.

"The village acknowledges the value of this art program to the community and encourages everyone to support this new ArtWorks operation," present Fox Lake Mayor Nancy Koske said.

In 2001, in the final days of Pappas's tenure as mayor, Heaney won the YMCA of Lake County Women of Achievement award.

The new site is located in a former tavern, and the former sand volleyball court area is in the process of being upgraded to a more artsy use.

ARTWORKS

Pfizer, who will be part of a large summer schedule there, combined talents of story telling and drum playing to entertain adults and youth attending on a Thursday afternoon. Children and adults enjoyed hearing about the bald eagle that made the rains come and, later, making rain sticks.

"We are looking for sponsors for our acts in June. People always ask what it takes to start it up. I say it is patience," said director Sharon White.

Support for ArtWorks comes at the most unexpected times. Artist Debbie Larker of Libertyville was a first-time visitor on a Friday, donating many art supplies she no longer uses.

"I have worked with art all my life," said Diana Osland, showing projects such as carving faces out of milk cartons and work done in one of her oil painting classes.

Melody Mohr, a freshman at nearby Grant High School, looks forward to her many visits there as a volunteer. "It is so cool," she said.

White and Barb Thomas along with several volunteers teach youngsters and older fans of art like classes.

"It is more of a love of art than profit," White, originally from Florida, said.

Michael Lescher, immediate ArtWorks board past president, says that the niche is heading in the right direction.

The location has been the same for a year for the first time in a long while. It was first at the Fox Lake "Lions Club" building at South Street, then at the community center, given free rent from Lakeland Plaza owners. Now it is in Ingleside.

"This site works well for them. They have had a chance to get a year under their belt. They have a very ambitious schedule. It will help them build recognition. It is not just for youth, either. They are reaching out to senior citizens and starting an artists' guild," Lescher said.

Newly-seated board members include the following: Fox Lake Deputy Police Chief Rich Becmer; David Becker, a local artist; and Nicole Chelini, Performing Arts of Spring Grove. They will serve a two-year term.

White, originally from Florida, has shown art work at many venues, including the College of Lake County, Artserve of Broward County, Florida; Lake County Health Department and US Bank. Her freelance work over the years has included murals, signs and brochure designs.

She is active in Fox Lake, belonging to the Fox Lake Lions Club, Friends of Volo Bog, E.S. Art Guild, Chain of Lakes Artists. Volunteer work has included Florida Help for Animals, Neighborhood Artist in Residency Program, Fox Lake Elementary District 114 PTA, and a judge at the Lake County 4-H Fair and at PM&L Theater in Antioch.

Thomas has been involved in working on her visual arts and voice, and theater work, the Performing Arts of Spring Grove and Illinois Youth Dance Theater, Friends of the Gallery and Chain O' Lakes Artists.

Osland has had artwork displayed at Lake County Health Department and Stanton and Grant High Schools in Fox Lake.

The mission statement of the fledgling ArtWorks outlines its goals. "To promote the arts and recycling in an interactive environment with hands on activities and exhibits relating to all aspects of the fine arts, performing arts, language arts and environmental sciences.

HOROSCOPE

ARIES - March 21/April 20

Someone is breathing down your neck this week, Aries, but you can handle the pressure. Not one to buckle under stress, seek out the companionship of a new friend.

TAURUS - April 21/May 21

Preaching is no substitute for experience, Taurus. Don't say a word unless you can back up your advice with evidence. A family member is troublesome on Tuesday.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21

Live by the rules that you'd prefer others follow. If you've been having lofty ideas, there bound to come to fruition, this week Gemini. Stay patient until the weekend.

CANCER - June 22/July 22

As much as you want to support others, Cancer, you come first. Set aside some time to shuffle your priorities this week for more "you time." You are given a rare opportunity that shouldn't be wasted.

LEO - July 23/August 23

Serve others before you serve yourself, Leo. Remember that humility is one of the easiest ways to show what a good person you are. Keep health a main priority for the weekend.

VIRGO - Aug. 24/Sept. 22

These days your sense of fun is tame but satisfying, Virgo. A romantic partner prefers the expected rather than surprises, and you have no problem complying.

LIBRA - Sept. 23/Oct. 23

Even the most charming people are wasting their efforts on you this week, Libra. You're in no mood for social niceties. Keep to yourself until Thursday when your mood brightens.

SCORPIO - Oct. 24/Nov. 22

It's time to think ahead and set up a plan for the future. You can't live day to day or by your strong intuitions. Romantic possibilities seem strong and on the horizon.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov. 23/Dec. 21

When life gets serious this week, Sagittarius, your focus shifts to the responsibilities demanded of you. Always perceptive, you maintain control in every situation. You'll resume fun times shortly.

CAPRICORN - Dec. 22/Jan. 20

You're the reasonable authority this week, Capricorn. Whether at work or even at home you're collecting dues from those who owe you from past generosity. Don't let it go to your head.

AQUARIUS - Jan. 21/Feb. 18

Document all of your actions and save all of your receipts this week. You're living in a fog, Aquarius, and you may need some evidence to indicate where you've been and where you're headed.

PISCES - Feb. 19/March 20

Too much is far better than not enough, so live life to the fullest this week, Pisces. There are many obstacles but they don't slow you down much. Just keep focused on your goal.

Dark humor packs punch in 'End of the Tour'

Victory Gardens Theater ends its 2002-03 season with "The End of the Tour," an engaging new work by Chicago playwright Joel Drake Johnson.

The dark comedy homes in on the interconnected lives of six characters who have reached a crossroads where they each must reevaluate their commitment to each other and decide what direction their own lives will take.

Mae, a central character, is in a nursing home in downstate Dixon, Ill., while she recuperates from a broken ankle. A distant, manipulative and demanding woman who still relishes the memory of when she sang for "hometown boy" Ronald Reagan, Mae can be charming one moment and a banshee the next.

Her schoolteacher daughter Jan struggles for the fortitude to cope with her demanding/interfering parent and insists she's going to "strangle" her some day. Besides, Jan has her hands full as it is weaning herself from Chuck, the husband she just left who has transferred his affection to his dying 17-year-old cat.

Meanwhile, Jan's gay brother Andrew isn't much help. Having been forced out of the picture years earlier by an insensitive stepfather, Andrew is not sure he's emotionally up for a reunion with his mother, no matter how insistent the call. And when they do cross paths, it's a stunner.

For "The End of the Tour," director Sandy Shinner has assembled the identical stellar cast that appeared in the well-received premiere of an earlier play by Johnson, "Before My Eyes," performed in 1998 at Victory Gardens.

Mary Ann Thebus is perfect as the totally self-absorbed Mae, while Annabel Armour falls into the mold as her dutiful, repressed 40-year-old daughter. Timothy Hendrickson plays the stunted son, comforted by Andrew Rothenberg as his companion. Then there's Rob Riley as the former husband who still harbors many unresolved feelings for the woman he lost. Rounding out the cast are Marc Silva, the drinking buddy, and Kitty Taber in a minor but important role. Victory Gardens makes maximum use of its small stage. A revolving set effectively allows the action to shift from a Chicago apartment to a nursing home bedroom to the kitchen of a Dixon house to a waiting room in the same nursing facility.

Johnson's dialogue—sharp and witty—has more than a little ring of truth in it that may have audience members identifying with the real-life idiosyncracies of his characters.

"The End of the Tour" runs through July 6 at 2257 N. Lincoln Ave., Chicago. Ticket information is available at 773-871-3000.

Evanston festival continues award-winning tradition

Evanston's 31st Annual Custer's Last Stand Festival of the Arts will be held on Saturday and Sunday, June 21 and 22. The main entrance to the fair is at the intersection of Chicago Ave. and Main St. in Evanston. Festival hours are 10 a.m.-7 p.m. The Jazz Stage and food booths on Chicago Avenue stay open until 9 p.m. both nights.

There will be 400 art and craft exhibitors and 30 antique dealers from all across America. Thirty restaurants will participate in the Custer FoodFest. The Jazz Stage runs continuous music and the Show Stage features both music and variety entertainment, including Corky Siegel performing with Frank Donaldson. The Children's Park highlights include a theater, puppets, rock climbing, camel rides and more.

Visited by 60,000 people yearly, Custer's Last Stand was inducted into the Illinois Festival Hall of Fame as one of the top festivals in Illinois. A $1 completely voluntary donation is asked for at the entrance gates.

AAF

Celebrate adopt a cat month

The Assisi Animal Foundation, in conjunction with the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty of Animals, (ASPCA) is celebrating National Adopt a Cat Month this June.

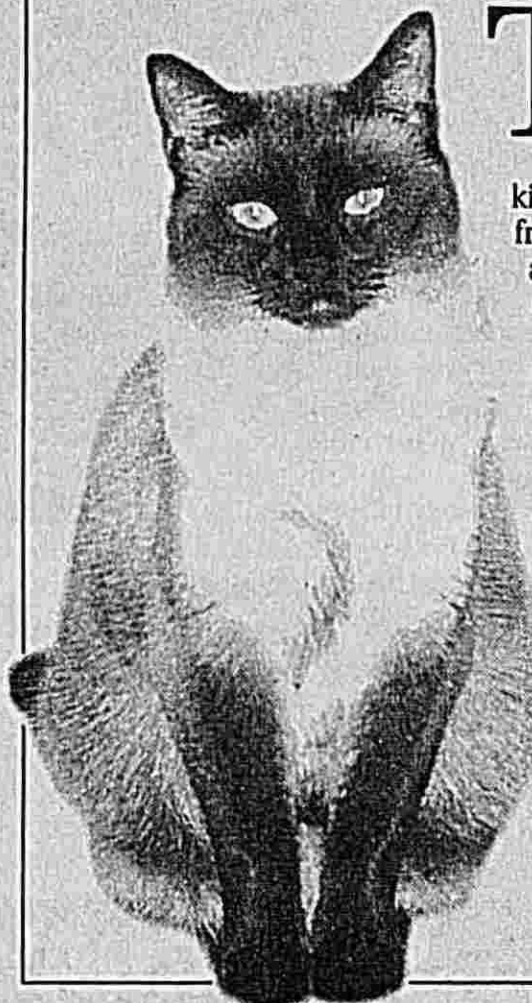

To encourage adoption of one of its loving cats or kittens during the month of June, the AAF will provide free food and gift for the adopted cat with each adoption. Felines are now America's favorite animal companion. They are affectionate, clean and extremely intelligent. The AAF recommends that everyone have their own personal "furry therapist," waiting at home for them at the end of a busy, stressful day.

The Assisi Animal Foundation built McHenry County's first non-kill shelter and is currently housing a wonderful selection of beautiful cats and kittens waiting for permanent homes.

The AAF also serves the community with its animal assisted therapy program that currently visits eleven retirement facilities and hundreds of residents.

For adoption information please call the Assisi Animal Foundation at 815-455-9411.

THERE'S JUST ONE HOSPITAL
in Lake County that delivers
MORE THAN YOU'RE EXPECTING.

At Lake Forest Hospital, you're not surprised that every labor and delivery room nurse is fully certified in fetal heart monitoring. Or that the doctors are board-certified. And you take it for granted that pediatricians from Children's Memorial are always on hand if you need them. At Lake Forest Hospital, you expect that kind of care. What you might not expect is that the whole wonderful experience is due to get even better.

Our new facility for family centered maternity promises even more room in your room for baby. And Daddy. And real privacy. There'll be a special care nursery with extended capabilities. And our famous lobster dinner celebration? Of course. But here's the best part: if you're just now planning to have a baby, our new facility is due before you are. "Hollywood Homicide", Josh Hartnett, Harrison Ford

Hollywood Homicide

Rating
 PG 13 for violence, sexual situations and language

Director
 Ron Shelton

Starring
 Harrison Ford, Josh Hartnett
 Isaiah Washington, Lena Olin

This action comedy stars Harrison Ford (Joe) and Josh Hartnett (KC) as cops, with much of the fresh humor of the early "Lethal Weapon" films. Joe is a detective trying to close his alimony cash flow gap by selling real estate. KC wants to be an actor, and his rap to bed the ladies comes from just saying yes to the women in the yoga class he teaches. The mood of the film is set when you catch the hip hop music that plays during the opening credits and you see Joe hit the bull's-eye on targets at the police shooting range, as KC looks on and hopefully picks up a few pointers.

H2OKlick is an up and coming rap group that wants to break their contract with record producer Antoine (Isaiah Washington). He puts out a hit on the group and soon four people are killed, leaving their songwriter K-Ro (KURUP) as a witness. Now there's a hit out on K-Ro, who is Olivia's (Gladys Knight) son. Think of this situation as somewhat analogous to the real life events in the documentary "Biggie and Tupac."

Pay back from way back

Like the recently released "Italian Job," this film has lots of humor and action with a minimal sprinkling of CGI. Both pictures are fun, with this one challenging your intellect a little more because so much is going on at the same time.

Joe's girlfriend, talk show host Ruby (Lena Olin) walks the spiritual talk. She is the ex of Internal Affairs Investigator Bennie (Bruce Greenwood) that presents one of the best pieces of foreshadowing in a film that we can remember. You see the event coming and you can hardly wait so you can laugh.

Julius (Master P) is the owner of a nightclub who just happens to be in the market for a house in the $6 million range. Duran (Martin Landau) is a "has been" in the record business and has a house he won't sell for a penny under $5.7M. Joe may be able to close a deal and the case at one time.

How well you like the movie may depend most on your expectations. Our advice is to see the film if you are looking for a good time with escapist entertainment. Don't go in like George, thinking of Harrison Ford as Jack Ryan from one of those Tom Clancy movies. We don't think we necessarily want to see "Hollywood Homicide 5," but HH2 could be worthwhile.

Sweet Sixteen

 PG-13

Not Rated (language & violence)

Director
 Ken Loach

Starring
 Martin Compston
 William Ruane

Liam (Martin Compston) is a 15-year-old in a working class Scottish town, who hustles cigarettes (fags) on the street and in local pubs, with his good friend Pinball (William Ruane). Liam and Pinball are good kids who see only two forks in the road, both leading to a troubled future.

While the film's title, "Sweet Sixteen," evokes thoughts of the vagaries of getting your driver's license or losing your virginity, this rite of passage is difficult indeed.

There are opportunities for Liam to have a sexual liaison with Suzanne (Michelle Abercromby), but he is more interested in what to do about his grandfather and Stan (Gary McCormack), his mother Jean's (Michelle Coulter) boyfriend. Stan and grandpa are taking Liam to visit Mum (Jean) in jail, so he can slip some dope to her to sell as they create a diversion while he gives her a lingering hug.

Opportunity of a lifetime

"Sweet Sixteen", Martin Compston, Annmarie Fulton

Liam later decides to steal some "gear," meaning dope or smack, from Stan, a middling level drug peddler, and to create his own diversion so he's not suspected. Using his entrepreneurial skills, Liam does such a nice job of moving the goods, via a pizza delivery ruse, that he comes to the attention of Douglas (Jon Morrison), a big-time drug dealer. Douglas is connected and he launders his money through an upscale health club, where the women who want to see and be seen spend their leisure time.

Liam's goal is to give his Mum a new start when she gets out of jail, and Douglas is the ticket to lots of money and a nice apartment overlooking the bay. Unlike many films with unrealistic and over written scripts to create conflict, "Sweet Sixteen" provides a reality that is grittier than "8 Mile." In many ways this is a much darker film in attitude and tone, even though most of it was shot during daylight, in a somewhat cheery atmosphere.

For today's rebellious teenager, this film could mean nothing or it could help them look into the mirror and change before it's too late. The movie may end in a certain state of "limbo," but that's no way to turn sixteen in real life.

Chicago hotels offer special rates for summer

Chicago celebrates its unique musical heritage with Play On Chicago: Summer In Chicago 2003. This city-wide initiative will emphasize the many musical styles that can be heard today throughout the city. From blues and zydeco to world music, and from arias and a cappella to scat, Chicagoans and visitors will delight in the sounds of Chicago during Play On Chicago through September 21.

Along with the plethora of music, more than 50 hotels are offering special rates starting at $69 a night to accommodate varying budgets and tastes. Rates vary and are valid until September 6. A number of special values are available to guests who pay with their American Express cards at select hotels, including complimentary room upgrades, a Delmark Records 50th Anniversary blues CD set and a card redeemable for exclusive offers and saving at Water Tower Place shopping center.

In addition to perennial favorites Grant Park Music Festival (June 11-August 16), Taste of Chicago (June 27-July 6) and more, Play On Chicago will offer several new musical programs, including the Chicago Blues Exchange. In celebration of the "Year of the Blues," the Chicago Blues Exchange will feature blues artifacts, imagery and films daily, except holidays, as well as live music on Mondays at noon and Fridays at 5:30 p.m. from now until September 21 at the Chicago Tourism Center, 72 E. Randolph Street. There will also be more featured programs and musical events throughout the city in concert halls, churches, parks, music schools, restaurants, hotels and clubs.

In addition to special hotel rates, visitors who prefer to reserve a pre-planned itinerary will enjoy one of the several Immersion Weekends. Each Immersion Weekend package includes a two-night stay in a downtown Chicago hotel, tickets to some of the hottest events in the city and access to exclusive receptions hosted by leading arts experts.

For reservations packages and more information visit the web site at www.877CHICAGO.com or call 1-877-CHICAGO.

The dirty lowdown on a 'high tea'

Ever the society maven, this columnist just had the pleasure of pulling off another impeccably polite gathering—a high tea. Pardon me, dears, but it was simply TO DIE FOR. Then I had to take the ant traps off the silver trays before the guests arrived.

Perhaps discerning readers will recall my last piece: When Nature Calls, Lock the Door. In a nutshell, try as I might, animal life kept popping up on my guest list while I was preparing for this party.

But I'm not part English for nothing. With a stiff upper lip—and the bristles of a good broom—I was able to subdue the natives and rebuild the British Empire in all its glory.

Unfortunately, genes of German descent were staging a surprise attack for the big day. The first assault came from my husband and a teenage son in a pair of baggy ones. I didn't realize the emergency lawn paramedics who showed up were just decoys. It took me awhile to convince these folks that spreading a truckload of fertilizer was useless on sod that only needed hospice care until my guests departed.

Meanwhile, my son had ample time to lodge our old riding mower, in all its rusty glory, in a front ditch. Of course, hubby was his usual prince charming to the rescue when he saw my formal setting was in jeopardy. "Drape the tractor with a white tablecloth and flowers; or, better yet, just invite the ladies out for a game of tug-of-war and save MY BACK!"

My daughter was also busy with her own vision of the celebrations. I should have known it involved supplementing her allowance in some way. But her signs seemed so touchingly innocent: "The garden is open...but is your heart?" and, "Garden tour after tea in the Alice-in-Wonderland garden!" Only afterwards did I learn she intended guests to open not only their hearts but their wallets. This from a kid who makes her brothers play shill games upstairs if they want to get to their bedroom.

But a big "Hip, Hip, Hooray!" goes to the daughter of a Cockney girl—and the next candidate for Martha Stewart in a TV movie—my Mom. Ma Ma showed up with enough proper English treats to cater the Ascot, sending me off to do what I do best, absentmindedly trying to cut the lawn with the snow blower!

As for the guests who had the nerve to show up, "Jolly Good Show!"

"RATHER" to the horsewoman who's purple-plumed chapeau would have fit right in at an Edwardian day at the races. And the preacher's daughter maintained her decorum, even while balancing on garden stepping stones in a crown made out of a grocery bag.

Finally, thank you for the dignified, yet engaging, conversation befitting women of such fine pedigree. What fun to recall the finer points of police dusting a milk box for fingerprints, childhood friend, when our secret sleeper turned into a suspected B & E!

And what better hostess gift than beverage napkins that read, "Don't mistake our endurance for hospitality."

By the end of my little function, a departing guest wearing a homemade party hat sporting a bird's nest wryly thanked me for my endurance. Somehow, I imagine she would have preferred MY hat to be part of a more appropriate ensemble—"The hostess was attractively tarred and feathered..."

Leslie Glazier-Werner can be contacted at lesismore@msn.com.

'Explore Packs' bring nature to life through learning

Summer is the season to explore and the Lake County Forest Preserves have just the tool for you and your family—new "Explore Pack" activity backpacks.

Attend an open house at the Warren-Newport Public Library near Gurnee on Saturday, June 21, or at the Ryerson Conservation Area near Deerfield on Sunday, June 22 to learn how to use the new Explore Packs. Both open house events are from 1 to 3 p.m. and offer activities related to the different Explore Pack themes such as nature, birds, fishing, the farm, trees and plants. Light refreshments will be served.

Explore Packs are backpacks filled with hands-on activities for families to do together at a Forest Preserve or other natural area.

Each backpack includes equipment, books, activities, a craft and other goodies to guide your family's explorations of nature. The Explore Packs are designed for families with children up to 10 years old.

After your adventure, reinforce the day's learning with a story. Each Explore Pack includes a picture book, easy reader and a chapter book. Share the results of your family's explorations by turning in a completed journal page when you return the backpack. Pages will be collected with others in an Explorer's Journal for all to see.

The new Explore Packs are free to use and are available for checkout at Ryerson Woods Nature Library or the Children's department at the Warren-Newport Public Library in Gurnee (available to anyone with an Illinois Library card).

The Explore Pack Open Houses are open to families with children up to 10 years of age. They are free and registration is not required.

Warren-Newport Public Library is located on O'Plaine Road, east of Milwaukee Avenue (Rte. 21) and just north of Washington Street near Gurnee. Ryerson Woods is located on Riverwoods Road, between Half Day Road (Rte. 22) and Deerfield Road near Deerfield.

For more information about the Explore Packs or the Open House events, please call the Lake County Forest Preserves at 847-968-3321 or visit the web site at www.LCFPD.org.

Collectors rejoice! Four great shows in one weekend

For the first time in collecting history, four major collecting shows will take place during the same weekend under the same roof. The Collectors Expo/Chicago featuring the International Gift & Collectible Expo, Mid-America Coin Expo, Windy City Antique Show and SportsFest—is slated for June 26-29 at the Donald E.

Stephens Convention Center in Rosemont. For the first time collectors can make purchases at all of the shows.

Tickets are $8 for a one-day ticket to a particular show, or $15 for a three-day all-access ticket that allows entry into each of the four shows. Tickets are available at www.collect.com, or call toll free at 877-746-9757.

Opinions vary on lake

Grayslake—Is Gray's Lake safe? Bob Lashbrook, executive director of the Grayslake Park District, says yes. He has a report from the Lake County Health Department Environmental Health Services Lake Management unit to prove it.

Patti Penn and Frank Hauser, residents who live on the waterfront, say no. Hauser, a professor at the College of Lake County, holds a doctorate in environmental engineering and is the owner of Water Specialists, an environmental business.

Residents have been complaining about rashes developed after swimming in the lake, sludge on the lake's bottom and a proliferation of weeds.

Carmel starts work on new wing

Mundelein—Carmel High School in Mundelein broke ground after years of discussion and negotiations. There will be 10 laboratories including, five life science, two chemistry, two physics and one earth science.

The $4.7 million project came from donations from local corporations, community members and parents. Carmel's new science wing will open in 2004. In the school's 40-year history this is only the second building project.

Traffic tie-ups hamper local businesses

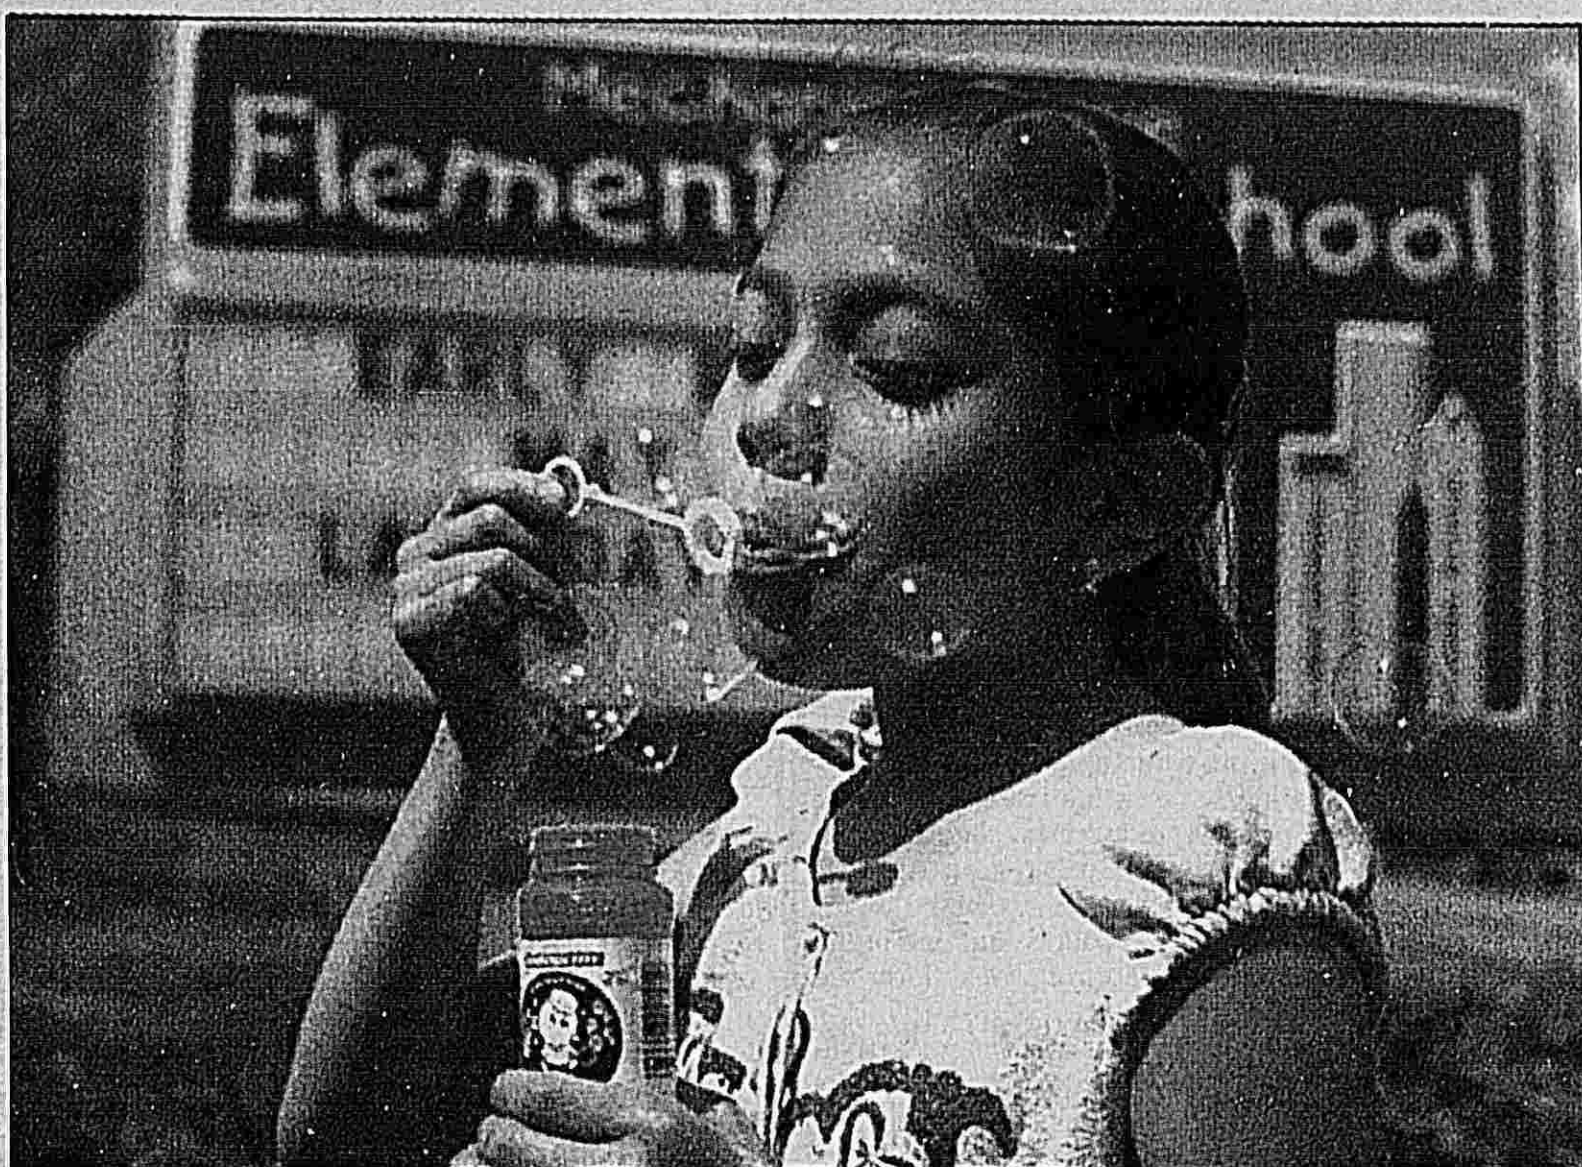

Gurnee—Saratoga Square business owners are up in arms about the Route 21/Washington Street construction project. Business owners say the construction project is hurting their businesses since the $27.8 million project began, effectively clogging nearby roads. The construction project is expected to be complete in November.

Annexation for YMCA?

Lindenhurst—After 80 years in unincorporated Lake Villa Township, Hastings Lake YMCA is now seeking annexation into the village of Lindenhurst.

"It makes sense for us to be part of Lindenhurst for services," said Jim Hayes, vice president of YMCA of Metropolitan Chicago, who made the request at the last regular meeting of the village board.

Lake County tradition returns next week as thousands of senior citizens are expected for the 31st Annual Seniors Day Celebration.

The event is from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. June 18 at the Lakewood Forest Preserve, located at Route 176 and Fairfield Road, west of Wauconda. Admission is free for seniors.

"It's a great event. The seniors are excited about it. This is one of the largest senior citizen recognition days in the Chicagoland area," said Mary Longshore, Lake County Forest Preserve Senior Day Coordinator.

Senior citizens will be able to enjoy a sponsor pavilion, swing dance music, bingo, an exhibit tent, an antique car display and free admission to the Lake County Discovery Museum.

Bonner, long-time farmer, selling 60 years of tractor collectibles

By CHRISTY BLANDFORD
Lakeland Correspondent

At 84, Howard "Shorty" Bonner can't climb a tractor as easily as he could during his heyday.

With only a few haystacks left on his farm after 60 years of farming, Bonner does not need his collection of more than 50 antique tractors. On June 28, after 40 years of amassing the collection, he is putting it up for auction at his Hunt Club Road farm.

"I'm 84 1/2, and I thought I'd clean them up while I'm still alive," Bonner said about his decision. "I can't get up and down the tractors as good, and I can't take care of them as good as I used to."

Farming is in Bonner's blood. His grandfather established the family farm in 1842 in Lake Villa Township. Since then, four generations of Bonners have maintained the farm.

Bonner said he has farmed since he finished high school in 1935. With his family's rich agricultural history, he said he did not consider any other career paths.

"I guess I didn't know any better," he said. "That was a way of life and that's what we knew. I seemed to like it I guess, and I stuck right with it."

Before Bonner's retirement in 1995, he raised grain on 430 acres. He then donated eight acres of the land to the Lake County Forest Preserve District and sold all but 35 acres to a home developer.

Only a few haystacks and flower gardens are left for Bonner and his wife Nancy to maintain on their farm in Newport Township.

Since his retirement, Bonner has been fixing up antique tractors

Car museum caught in web of rising legal costs in site dispute

By STEVE PETERSON and
CHRISTY BLANDFORD
Staff Reporters

More than $100,000 in legal fees have not stopped the owners of the Volo Auto Museum from continuing their power struggle against big business corporate owners.

Owners of the Volo Auto Museum are not backing down against a complaint filed by the Volvo Cars of America Corporation alleging the small museum's Web site is too similar to auto manufacturer's site.

Volvo, the Swedish-based auto manufacturer owned by Ford Motor Company, brought the complaint against auto museum to the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO), which acts as an arbitrator in copyright and trademark infringement cases.

Volvo officials claim the museum owners are violating trademark laws with their Web site domain name, www.volocars.com. Volvo's Web site is www.volvocars.com.

Volo Auto Museum director Greg Grams said a ruling from WIPO is expected this week.

Grams views the complaint as an attempt to knock Volo, which has a population of around 200 people, off the map completely.

"The museum elected to challenge Volo and filed a WIPO response urging that the Volvo claim be rejected for a variety of reasons that included the inability of the Swedish corporation to disenfranchise an entire village (Volo)," he said.

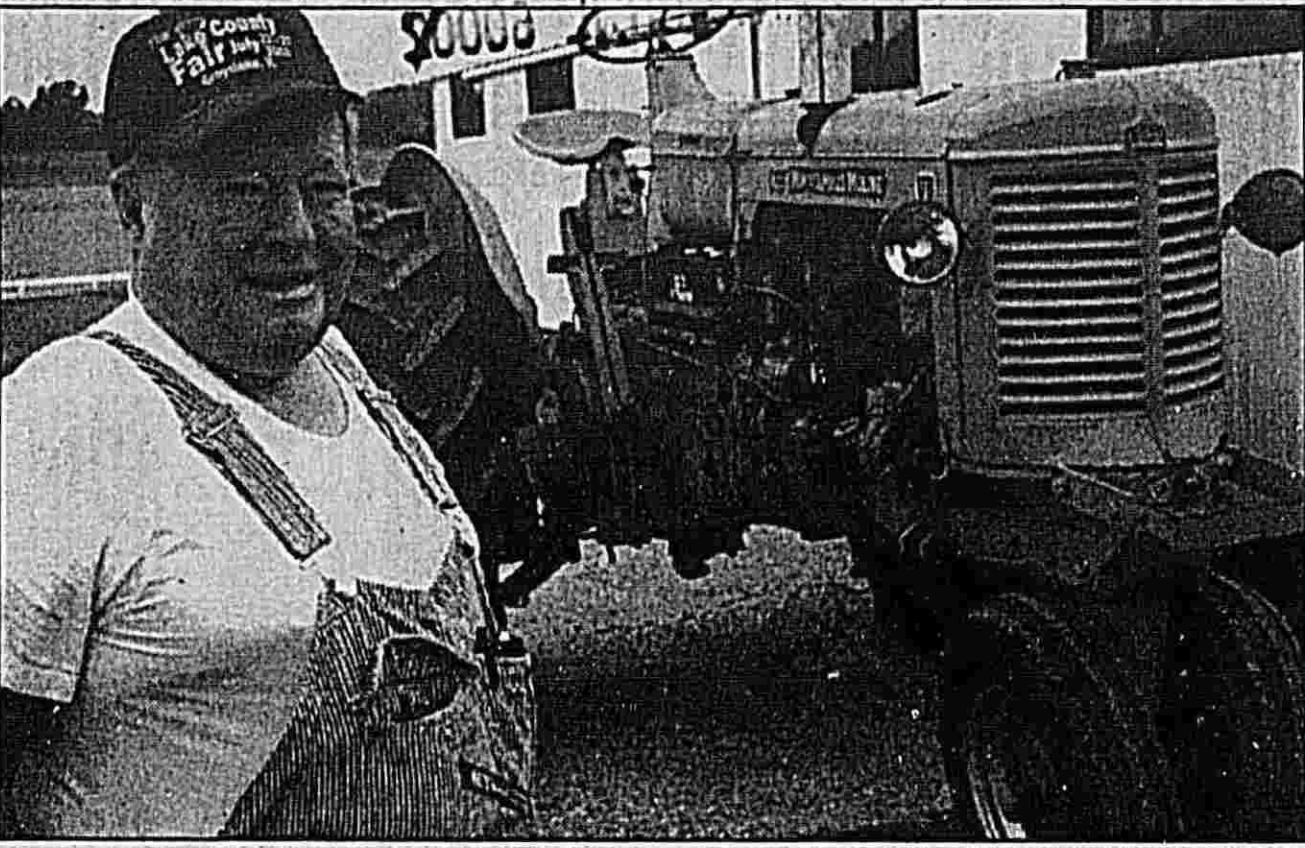

Grams argues he registered his museum's domain name in 1997 before Volvo's site debuted online.

But Dan Johnston, Volvo spokesman, said Volvo's Web site was established in 1994, making it the first automobile web site. Some documentation states that Volvo's Web site opened in 2000, Johnston said, but that was the year Ford Motor Company re-registered as domain owner of the site, not the year the site was established.

Johnston said Volvo's business has not suffered because of the Volo museum's site, but company owners want to protect their trade-he has collected. He will keep five tractors to maintain his farm, and sell 47 antique tractors including 20 John Deere two-cylinder tractors dating from 1935.

"Those include the last of the two-cylinder tractors," he said. "Then they went to the new generation of four and six-cylinders."

With the response he's had so far, Bonner may reap large profits. The auction has been featured in national agricultural and collectable magazines and he's already had calls from interested buyers in California, Alabama and Texas.

Gregory Koeppen, information director for the Lake County Farm Bureau, said he has heard rumblings of some items expected to sell for $15,000 or more.

"He has some really remarkable items and he's babied each one of those," Koeppen said. "Anyone who's going to get one of those has Shorty's seal of approval on it, and that means a lot in Lake County."

Koeppen said some items are so rare they might even hit the big screen. He wouldn't be surprised if a movie producer snatched them up.

"There's an old truck I could see in a movie," Koeppen said. "It's going to be one of the largest we've ever seen in Lake County and one of the most unique and probably one we'll never see again."

Koeppen, who has known Bonner for more than five years, said whenever young farmers look to the farm bureau for help, he takes them to Bonner's farm to spend an afternoon with the experienced farming veteran.

Although the number of farms and farmers continues to decrease, there are still 335 farms, ranging in size from five to 2,000 acres, remain in the county, Koeppen said. Like Bonner's land, most former farmland eventually is used for commercial property or subdivision, he noted.

Although Bonner is selling most of his collection, he will not give up his passion for collecting after the auction is over.

"We'll keep up our place here and I might just play with some more tractors, you never know," he said.

CARS

marked name so it is not misused.

"Our concern is about the future use of that site," he said. "If we allow that site to continue forever, we have no idea what will happen to it in the future."

Grams said that the controversy has impacted daily business at the museum. "We can't put in a playground for the kids of Volo," he said. "We had planned to expand our military display, but we can't do that either, because of the $100,000 to legal fees."

Johnston said Volo Auto Museum also has another Web site for their business, www.voloautomuseum.com, that might be more fitting for them to use.

"He has the other Web address that's more germane to his business," Johnston said. "It's nothing against the museum, and he already has a Web address."

Grams does not think the corporation has the right to force him to give up his Web site.

"Can a foreign corporation really dictate the manner in which a rural Illinois auto museum uses the Internet to display American vehicles?" he said.

Grams said Volvo has been sending representatives to the western Lake County auto museum to discuss terms of a contract, but he did not think the contract was fair.

"They said that they wanted this to go away," Grams said. "They said that we could keep doing business, but had to give up our domain name. I said that I wanted them to pay the $100,000 legal bills that we have incurred because of this."

"They said 'no', and gave us five days to sign the contract and we could not discuss it in the media. The contract that they offered was an insult."

Johnston declined to discuss the terms of the agreement, but said it was mutually beneficial. "He and I had an agreement where both parties would benefit and two days later he rescinded that agreement," Johnston said. "He didn't (think the agreement was insulting) when he and I talked on the telephone. He was the one who agreed to it. If he felt it was insulting, he probably should not have agreed with it."

Volvo officials decided to take the matter to the WIPO in April in order to have a party arbitrate Volvo's request that Volo relinquish the domain rights, Johnston said.

"Rather than going through the legal system we wanted confirmation that what were doing was correct we asked a third party to rule on it," he said.

The auto museum owners do not plan to give up their domain rights easily, although legal bills continue to mount for the family-owned firm, Grams said.

"How can Volvo have the chutzpah to demand, as a condition of a settlement, that the museum simply relinquish its identity?" Grams said.

Johnston said the complaint does not constitute legal action because the WIPO's decision is not legally binding. But if the matter does persist to federal court, the organization's decision could be influential, although company officials would like to keep the matter out of court, Johnston said. Grams is optimistic about the WIPO's decision.

"I think that we have a good chance of winning," Grams said. "If we don't, we may appeal to a federal court. Either way, it is a no-win situation for them, because they are getting a lot of bad publicity over this."

will be honored between 11:30 a.m. and noon.

The Banjo Buddies and the John Burnett Swing Band will provide music.

"We have a lot of great groups that help as volunteers, such as Abbott Laboratories, the Youth Conservation Corps, and staff brings it all together so that we can offer this each year," Longhore said.

Event sponsors include: Lakeland Media, First Midwest Bank, Walgreens, Lake Forest Hospital, Mesrow Financial, and Marriott's Lincolnshire Theater. Pinnacle Health Care, Hillcrest Nursing Center, Max and Erma's Restaurants, Saddlebrook Farms, and Stewart's Private Blend Coffee. Laidlaw Bus Co. of Vernon Hills provides the buses. Townships also transport seniors to and from the event. Many local businesses, townships and corporate volunteers provide additional support.

"We expect between 4,000 to 6,000 people, depending on the weather. The seniors look forward to it. It is a nice chance for senior citizens to meet each other and catch up," Longhore said.

Recognizing how charity changes

With a so so economy, people have less to spend. And less to give. Awareness of new challenges for not-for-profit organizations has brought about significant changes in the way United Way of Lake County serves. Although contributions and pledges for the 2002-2003 year dipped to over $8 million given, United Way enjoyed a landmark year. The opening of its new home in Gurnee, Lake County Center for Community Leadership, and adoption of a new mission statement in March, provides the agency a renewed sense of direction and commitment.

Kristi Long, CEO and president, emphasizes that United Way today is geared to making sure that the Lake County community has what it needs to succeed. Considered in the broadest sense, United Way is much more than a charity clearing house gathering contributions and doling out dollars to member agencies.

The modern United Way of Lake County is geared for such things as processing in-kind gifts, providing administrative and support for member agencies and helping buttress political efforts to gain tax aid for not-for-profit organizations such as envisioned by Congressman Phil Crane.

The three quarters of a century-old charity has achieved new levels of expertise to measure effectiveness of programs conducted by member social agencies. This means that programs no matter how well intended don't get funded unless there is a track record to substantiate United Way support. The new mission statement takes into account Lake County's diversity. In the annual report, Long emphasized that United Way is out to earn the trust of a diverse population.

United Way of Lake County's leadership of professionals and volunteers is proving that there is more to giving and then hoping for the best.

GUEST EDITORIAL

Time to share Forest Preserves growth

By Bonnie Thomson Carter
President, Lake County Forest
Preserve District

Residents in southeastern Lake County have been waiting over a decade for public access improvements at Fort Sheridan. In the late 1980s and early 1990s, the Forest Preserve District worked with surrounding communities to win congressional and presidential approval of legislation to have the U.S. Army transfer land to Lake County Forest Preserve District. The Forest Preserve District was able to acquire the northern 259 acres of the fort at the very low cost of just $1.25 million for property valued at up to $45 million. The land transfer agreement legally obligated the Forest Preserve District to provide a public golf course and access to Lake Michigan on the property in perpetuity.

Funding to restore the natural ravines and lakeshore at Fort Sheridan and to provide public access to the preserve was included in the 1993 and 1999 referenda approved by Lake County voters. Additional funding to renovate the golf course will be provided by a bank loan repaid by golf course revenues, not by tax dollars. Golf course revenues also will pay for maintenance and operation of both the golf course and general public access trails and facilities at the preserve.

There are severe erosion problems in the ravines at Fort Sheridan that are damaging habitat for endangered and threatened species. The best way to correct these erosion problems is to integrate storm water improvements with renovation of the golf course. Storm water will run through a series of wetlands and ponds on a completely reconstructed golf course instead of being dumped into the ravines. Native prairie and wetland vegetation will expand buffer areas between the golf course and the ravines and provide enhanced wildlife habitat. Multipurpose trails are also planned and a federal grant will pay for educational exhibits. It is not possible to complete the natural resource restoration and public access improvements without also reconstructing the golf course.

Fort Sheridan is the major land acquisition and public access improvement project for southeastern Lake County. Voters in communities surrounding Fort Sheridan have overwhelmingly supported Forest Preserve referenda, despite the fact that most referendum funds were spent purchasing land, creating trails and making other improvements in other areas of Lake County. The Forest Preserve District has legal and ethical obligations and commitments to retain the golf course and complete required improvements at Fort Sheridan Forest Preserve to protect the natural resources and provide public access.

VIEWPOINT

Stratton: A working first lady

Shirley Stratton is a fountain of knowledge of mid-century Illinois politics and how Illinois public affairs impacted the nation during the peace and prosperity administration of President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Shirley Stratton was First Lady of Illinois from 1952 to 1960. Her husband, William G. Stratton, a native of Lake County, became governor at age 38, the nation's youngest governor at the time.

Mrs. Stratton returned to Lake County to take part in the dedication of the Stratton Room in the new prairie-style Grant Township administrative building erected in Ingleside, where the future governor as born in 1914 and lived until entering college at age 16 after graduating from Warren Township High School in Gurnee.

Bill Stratton's storied public service career introduced a young bride to an exciting life in the limelight. Mrs. Stratton recounted a hectic lifestyle and how she headed a Governor's Mansion staff of a dozen persons who worked 16 hour days, usually ending about 11 p.m.

As a new first lady, Shirley Stratton inherited a badly neglected residence, much in need of a woman's touch. The Strattons followed into office the scandal-ridden administration of Gov. Adlai Stevenson, who was divorced two months after inaugurated in 1949. Without a first lady's support, Stevenson spent a lot of time in Chicago and at his farm on St.

BILL SCHROEDER

Mary's Road, Libertyville. The Civil War era Governor's Mansion fell into disrepair.

"We started sprucing up the place immediately, taking one room at a time," recalled Mrs. Stratton, who now lives a quiet life in an apartment in downtown Chicago. "Both the governor and I wanted to 'open up' the mansion. After all, the place belongs to the people of Illinois."

Gov. Stratton ended a long established ritual of male lawmakers being entertained at the mansion when a new governor took over. "We're going to start inviting the wives," Gov. Stratton insisted as they planned his introduction as chief executive. So the Strattons entertained 25 legislators at a time, meaning 50 persons to be pampered and served at a succession of events. That set the pace for both VIP and public access to the distinguished three story mansard structure ending with his defeat for a third term.

A national magazine article at the time, focusing on the life and times of the nation's youngest governor and his wife, estimated that Mrs. Stratton entertained 25,000 persons a year, not counting visits of the public. "I think the record will show that we were the only ones to ever host a visit from the President of the United States," Mrs. Stratton recalled. That was when Ike and Mamie Eisenhower overnights at the mansion during a campaign stop in Springfield. Mrs. Stratton still has date books filled with names of guests, dinner and luncheon menus along with details for state dinners and other events.

Mrs. Stratton recalled with a chuckle how she was pressed into duty to serve as hostess at the Governor's Mansion long after the Strattons left Springfield. "Jayne Thompson (wife of Gov. Jim Thompson) took sick before a luncheon for business people we were to attend at the mansion. Jayne asked me to fill in for her. I guess she thought I had the experience and she trusted me."

Shirley Stratton was a working first lady. Few other governor's wives worked harder at the job—a non-paying position, by the way. Historians rate the two Stratton administrations as among the most productive and honest in Illinois history. History will also show that gracious and hard-working Shirley Stratton was an incomparable first lady.

Making of laws can be like making sausage

There is an old saying that the making of laws is just like the making of sausage. If you see the way that they are made, you wouldn't have anything to do with either of them. The legislature recently displayed the accuracy of that observation. I was in the legislature at its worst. Sausage couldn't taste any worse.

You've read about it. SBC, which we once knew as Ameritech, and then SBC Ameritech, was a major link in the "sausage link." And the legislature delivered the casing to SBC's liking. And there was Gov. Rod Blagojevich there to put his trademark signature on the "sausage wrapping."

It all started shortly after the legislature convened this year when what is called a "shell bill" was introduced in the Senate. A shell bill is one introduced as a "nothing bill" so that it can be held in limbo to be later amended, usually in the waning days of the session, to include the "meat," or "sausage." Of what all along was intended by the special interests backing the bill.

In this instance, SBC wanted the law changed so that it could increase the wholesale rates which it could charge to other telephone companies which pay to use its phone lines. These companies, such as MCI and AT&T, claimed that the legislation was aimed at "end-running" around the Illinois Commerce Commission and its rate-making structure. In effect, it would enable SBC to reduce its competition which eventually would lead to higher rates paid by consumers. By the way, what happened reminded me of another saying. "Law is like a telephone pole; you can't jump over it but you can get around it." SBC not only went around the present law, it barged through with new law to discount the present regulatory process.

You hear, I'm sure, that SBC is headed by William Daley, brother of Chicago Mayor Richard M. Daley. With that clout, SBC didn't PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Democratic women band for leadership

Democratic women are organizing a leadership group designed to have far-reaching effects on Lake County politics.

Formed as the Lake County Democratic Women Steering committee, the organization will be introduced at a power luncheon Sunday, June 22, at Crowne Plaza, Mundelein, featuring Congresswoman Jan Schakowsky of Chicago as keynote speaker.

Lake County Recorder Mary Ellen Vanderventer is serving as president. Original members include a virtual Who's Who of Democratic women in politics. State Sen. Susan Garrett and State Reps. Karen May and Kathy Ryg are involved in organizing work. Lauren Beth Gash, former Illinois legislator from the North Shore, is part of the organizers.

On the committee from the Lake County Board are Anne Flanagan Bassi, Mary Cunningham, Audrey Nixon and Carol Spielman. Two township supervisors, Patricia Jones of Waukegan and Betty Ann Moore of Libertyville are original members of the committee as is Rosa Reyes-Prosen, College of Lake County trustee.

Among the original members are Judy Armstrong, Melissa Bean, Arlene Demb, Linda Hinde, Pam Kerpec, Sue McWilliams, Lucy Rios and Nancy Shepherdson, most of whom have been candidates in recent elections.

Former State Rep. Andrea Moore of Libertyville, now serving as assistant director of the Illinois Dept. of Natural Resources, wielded a canoe paddle masterfully to prove that she's at home in the out-of-doors. She was among paddlers who accompanied Congressman Mark Kirk on a Des Plaines River canoe trip to get a close look at potential flooding hazards and wildlife conditions. Another paddler was Kim Vertolli-Kirk, the congressman's wife. Kirk promised to seek federal funding for flood control.

Out in open

Two factions on the Lake County Forest Preserve District—pro Director Steve Messerli and anti-Messerli—have come out into the open over a pet project of the director, construction of a 60,000 square foot maintenance building on Brae Loch golf course property, Route 45. County Board Rep. Sandy Cole (R-Grayslake) is leading the charge of opposition. She says she has neighbors in Grayslake and Wildwood (unincorporated Warren Township) on her side.

New transportation

Lake Villa Township Supervisor Dan Venturi has turned back the clock for his transportation. He's the proud new owner of a vintage Model A Ford complete with rumble seat and yellow wheels. Gotta have 'em. Venturi will team with his son to keep the car in tip-top shape as a father-son project.

Helping aliens

Lake County legislators gave solid support to the alien college in-state tuition bill that was sent to the governor for signing. Sponsors in the Senate included Terry Link (D-Vernon Hills), Bill Peterson (R-Long Grove) and Susan Garrett (D-Lake Forest). Sponsors in the House included Mark H. Beaubien (R-Barrington Hills) and Eddie Washington (D-Waukegan).

Job study

Political soothsayers have put under microscope the fact that Scott Garrett, husband of State Sen. Susan Garrett (D-Lake Forest) has accepted a job in California. They're wondering how the long-distance commute will impact Susan's political career.

No fluke

Honors bestowed on the Lake County Stormwater Management Commission are "no fluke," in the opinion of former Gurnee Mayor Dick Welton, the first SMC chairman. At an awards luncheon where national and state honors were recognized, Welton recalled that opinion in the early '80s warned that SMC "Wouldn't work." Praising professional staff for fighting flood problems, Welton said the "spirit of cooperation" displayed at various levels of government proved to be the key for success. SMC is a county agency with representation from villages and the Lake County Board.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Tighten the belt

I have to give members of the General Assembly in Illinois, on both sides of the aisle, some credit for sensible decisions. And, the same even for our Democratic governor. After all of the hysteria over expansion of gambling in Illinois, it does look like that issue is over in terms of dealing with the projected deficit.

As a local mayor I'm glad that I don't have to worry about video poker machines or having slots in places like racetracks. I guess my friends in Waukegan and also Senator Link won't have to worry about a casino at Lakehurst or at Waukegan Harbor. I for one feel great about that. Maybe now the focus can be on realistic economic development in Waukegan and moving forward with redevelopment of Lakehurst and enhancing the great asset that already exists with the Waukegan harbor and lakefront.

As I've said many times, I grew up in Waukegan and really like the city. Mayor Dick Hyde is a good man and I'm sure will provide good leadership for his community as they move forward without the "benefit" of a casino.

Although I have to give the General Assembly some credit as noted, I also am very disappointed to see revenue enhancements approved that really are negative for Illinois business. I think that is going to come around and bit us in the tail over the long run and prove to be a very poor solution to the budget problems. Although the projected budget deficit was a big number ($5 billion or so), that still is a single digit percentage of the total budget.

I contend that you and I could tighten our belts and deal with this kind of shortfall in our own family budgets and I think the State of Illinois could have approached the problem with more spending restraint if they had really tried. Of course, all of this may be a moot point if the national and Illinois economy improves, as I think it will, thanks to President Bush's tax reform initiatives and other business friendly measures.

Tom Adams, Mayor
Village Green Oaks

Tuition bill explained

This year the legislature is taking steps to rectify inequities at public universities concerning tuition for resident immigrants. The proposal has led to many questions in the district so I wanted to clarify exactly what the bill does.

House Bill 60, would provide a uniform procedure for tuition rates charged to Illinois residents who are not citizens. Currently, each university treats these students differently. Some are charged instate tuition and others are charged out-of-state tuition.

After much debate on the issue, it was decided these students should pay instate tuition for two reasons. First, they are Illinois residents and many of the students have lived here most of their lives. Second, many have already applied to become citizens and are simply completing a lengthy approval process—one that can often take longer than earning a degree.

Illinois is not the first state to offer instate tuition to resident immigrants. New York, California, Utah and Texas already have this law. Building on their examples, we took great steps to ensure this legislation will not encourage illegal immigrants to flock to Illinois. To qualify for instate tuition, immigrant students must meet five conditions:

Live in Illinois with a parent or guardian while attending an Illinois public or private high school;
Spend at least three years in an Illinois high school;
Graduate from an Illinois high school or receive a GED;

Register for college no earlier than fall 2003; and apply for citizenship or permanent residency at the earliest available opportunity.

Please note, while immigrant students would qualify for the lower tuition rate under the legislation, they would not qualify for scholarships or financial aid.

HB 60 passed by a vote of 55 to 1 in the Senate, enjoying great bi-partisan support.

Still, this legislation will help the students to afford a college education. Already, many immigrant students have enrolled and graduated from Illinois' community colleges, but the cost of a four-year degree has made it difficult for the students to finish their education, despite their academic abilities and potential. Making it easier for them to reach that goal will help them become more productive citizens once they do complete the citizenship process.

Adeline Geo-Karis
State Senator, 31st District

Horse sense

Now I'm no horse person by any stretch of the imagination. Never owned one, rode one, and most likely never will. But it does seem odd to me what I have become aware of in the general "grapevine." Rumor has it that there is a movement abroad to dedicate one portion of our vast Forest Preserve acquisitions to horse trails and that this is being resisted by the powers that be. I wonder why, when boaters, golfers, fishermen, hikers, bikers, etc. are catered to; why not the horsey set? There are a lot of horse folks in Lake County, seems as though we could recognize that fact and cater to them a little too, would be no skin off our non-horsey noses. Just one man's opinion.

George Burns gave us a comfy God

The only man ever to return from the next life is asked by a friend, "What's God like?" "Nice," he says. "You should see his car."

I don't know where that quip came from but it sounds like a line from a Mel Brooks comedy skit.

Hundreds of actors have tried to portray God, answering the question, "What's he like?" Most of those hundreds were actors we never heard of because they were in foreign films or other movies we didn't have access to.

Those who played God for Hollywood, however, included George Burns, Morgan Freeman, James Garner, John Huston, Val Kilmer, Robert Mitchum, George Plimpton, Rip Torn, Martin Sheen and Groucho Marx. Groucho as God? I think I like it! An all-time favorite would be the ageless George Burns. In 1977, in the movie "Oh, God!" he gave us a comfortable little supreme being in tennis shoes and a golf hat.

That movie was such a hit Burns did two sequels, "Oh, God! Book II" and "Oh, God! You Devil!"

To show how far we have come in 26 years, instead of the laid-back George Burns as God we now have the wild and crazy, comic genius Jim Carrey.

In the current huge-hit comedy, "Bruce Almighty," Carrey stars as a regular guy who receives the powers of God after complaining too much about life. Before getting his comeuppance, learning how difficult it is to run the world, Bruce uses the abilities given to him by the real God (played by Morgan Freeman) to look up women's dresses, torment his work rival, part his soup and teach his dog to use the toilet.

Critic Richard Roeper says, "Carrey made me laugh so hard I had tears in my eyes; and that's a heck of a trick."

Critic Harvey Karten wrote, "Carrey is down to earth, whimsical and genuinely loving. He comes off as a real human being and should be given roles to exploit his talents in that area."

Man always has wondered what God looks like. In the 16th century Michelangelo painted him as a stern, all-powerful creator with gray hair and flowing beard, barefooted and wearing a robe.

The image stuck with most of us until 1977 when Hollywood disguised him as George Burns, a whimsical little fellow with large ears, wearing horn-rimmed glasses, a baseball cap, red-and-black flannel shirt and blue-and-white sneakers. Ah, now we're getting closer to a God for Everyman.

As Erma Bombeck observed, "God created man, but I could do better."

About the 1977 movie, critic John D. Thomas wrote, "Burns as God is so wise and comforting that we end up wishing the film were a documentary."

Burns, as God, makes himself visible to a supermarket manager played by John Denver. Explaining his disguise he says, "If I appeared as God, your mind couldn't grasp it."

He also admits, "Tobacco was one of my big mistakes."

"And ostriches."

have to hire any lobbyists, but they took no chances. They hired more lobbyists for that "sausage bill" than has been seen working the capitol beat for some time. Of course, they "greased the skids" early on by contributing $85,000 to Gov. Blagojevich's campaign fund and $100,000 toward his inauguration ceremony.

So, it came as no surprise that the shell bill that was languishing in the House for many weeks was suddenly brought to life with the "SBC amendment" authorizing the rate increase. It was quickly rushed to the Senate to concur with the House amendment. The initial roll call in the Senate failed by three votes, but it was "resurrected" the next day to allow three senate members to change their votes and declare victory for the bill. The governor, who hasn't been seen too often in Springfield, somehow supplied his signature within minutes to approve the bill.

SBC will still have to appear before the Illinois Commerce Commission for a rate making hearing. That is sort of a technicality now as SBC can pull the "new law" out of its back pocket. In case things do go awry there, not to worry. The governor's new appointments to the ICC lean heavily in favor of the giant telephone corporation. Consumers lose again.

If nothing else, the law making process during this legislative debacle gives sausage-making a better name.

Flood gates ready for Chain

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Assisting to keep the Chain O' Lakes waterways open for recreational and commercial use this summer will be a $3 million flood gate device at both the Stratton and Algonquin dams.

The project was an Army Corps funded effort with Illinois Department of Natural Resources (IDNR) operating the gates, known as Pneumatic Hinged Crest Flood Gates (PHCFG).

"Foster is kind of a brand name. They are a little different. It is made by Obermeier Hydro of Colorado and uses air instead of hydraulic piston," said Frank Novak, lockmaster at Stratton Lock and Dam.

Fox Waterway Agency (FWA) board members learned of the details of how the gates will work from Novak and Rita Lee of the USEPA. Much of the construction of the gate system was done in 2001 and through the first part of 2002.

Lee explained the procedures on how the gates are determined to be opened.

"On May 1 of each year, it is opening day for the locks," she said. The most frequent floods, 40 of the last 50, occur after winter snows have melted, not due to summer rain events, she said. "We have had five flood events since 1939."

At Stratton Dam, the two gates are very similar in structure and function. "They are meant to work as a pair to provide flood control benefits for the Fox River and Chain O' Lakes from Algonquin through the Chain," Novak said.

The IDNR service as a local sponsor and built on land owned by IDNR and maintained by the IDNR guidelines.

Contract work for the two gates was awarded in 2000 to Cobalt, Inc. for $2.2 million. The project was $3.4 million, due to engineering.

A navigational boat lock has nothing to do with the flood control, Novak mentioned. It is used to get boats through the difference in water levels caused by the dam.

"In the center, is the old existing flood gates built in 1939 as part of the dam. They are used to control the flows of the river. One problem was capacity was not significant enough. There is an existing spillway portion from the east bank to the island. It was built in 1939, the third dam dating back to the 1900s. The new floodgates are under construction, (the old process. We had to take out 65 feet of that spillway and place a concrete abutment. The project construction began in 2000 with an access causeway part of the Moraine Hills State Park. They had to haul rock out to the river to get their equipment out," Novak said.

He showed the directors the stages from driving steel pilings, to use of a copper dam, to testing the PHCFG floodgates.

"This was at winter pool, when we lower the lakes in the winter months. There is a few inch flow of water over the top of the spillway," he said.

In January 2001, they began the demolition of the 65 feet to the west side of the spillway. "They have now pumped out and breaking the concrete, covered with limestone block, was broken up and taken out of the spillway, Novak said. "You can see the end of the old spillway, with the limestone on top," Novak said of one stage. "It is now encapsulated in the new abutment for the new gate."

"There are terminals for the airpiping that will supply the air to the pneumatic air system. Also in 2001, they brought the electrical service over for an emergency back-up generator that can power the whole facility. We want to take the power from the back-up generator in case we have power to operate that gate in the case of a prolonged power failure. There is a pier that separates the old existing spillway from the new gate structure and abutment and the island shoreline," Novak explained. A

Health department has beach closing site, names lake studies

Lake County beachgoers can now check online to see if Lake Michigan beaches are closed. The Lake County Health Department has partnered with Surfrider Foundation and Earth 911 to provide daily updates on closings at nine area beaches at www.co.lake.il.us/health.

Those beaches include North Point Marina in Winthrop Harbor, the north and south beaches at Beach State Park in Zion, Waukegan Municipal Beach's north and south facilities, Sunrise Beach in Lake Bluff, Forest Park Beach in Lake Forest, Park Avenue Boating Beach in Highland Park and Rosewood Beach, also in Highland Park.

The water quality status is updated on a daily basis. A green indicator shows a beach is open and a red indicator shows that it is closed. The health department's Lakes Management program monitors about 100 beaches for fecal contamination and also conducts technical surveys of 32 inland lakes every year to determine what types of protection and restoration are needed to maintain the lakes.

This year, the following area lakes are being studied by the Health Department. Those include Cedar Lake, Cross Lake, Deep Lake, Dugdale Pond, East Loon Lake, Fairfield Marsh, Flint Lake, Gages Lake, Half Day Pit, IMC Lake, Island Lake, Lake Forest Pond, Lake Louise, Lake Miltmore, Lambs Farm Lake, Little Silver Lake, McDonald Lakes 1 and 2, North Churchill Lake, Old Oak Lake, Old School Lake, Pulaski Pond, Redwing Marsh, Round Lake, Schreiber Lake, Seven Acre Lake, South Churchill Lake, Sterling Lake, Taylor Lake, West Loon Lake, Willow Lake and Wooster Lake.

For more information about the testing, call the health department's Lakes Management Unit at 847-377-8030.

It's that time of year again! The Panther Pushers of Round Lake High School will be holding their 13th Annual Golf Outing on Sat., July 19 at Renwood G.C. in Round Lake. THE SENIORS DAY HISTORY

Seniors Day is a long-standing Lake County Forest Preserves tradition. The annual celebration began in 1972, behind the efforts of the Lake County Forest Preserves Board of Commissioners, as part of a statewide recognition of seniors and their contributions. Formerly known as "Seniors Citizens Recognition Day", this event is rumored to have been the first of its kind in the country.

The program has not changed much in the past 31 years, though its size and scope have grown immensely. With nearly 5,000 guests, it has become Chicagoland's largest senior recognition event. Guests enjoy a day of fun-filled activities featuring FREE musical entertainment, dancing, light snacks and beverages, games, information exhibits, and more.

The musical entertainment has always been the centerpiece of the festivities. In the early years, half a dozen bands would play, ranging from the Army/Navy concert band to the local "kitchen" bands. Now, the entertainment features fewer, and bigger bands, including this year's John Burnett Swing Orchestra and the Banjo Buddies Dixieland Band. Music is sponsored by First Midwest Bank.

Event favorites include bingo, horseshoes, day-long raffles, light refreshments, antique Model A car display, the Seniors Day Ambassador Contest (sponsored by Lakeland Media), and the Information Pavilion (sponsored by Walgreens), where seniors can visit a variety of exhibitors who provide information and product samples. Just a few steps from the exhibits is Lake Forest Hospital's Care Coach, providing free medical screenings.

Over 5,000 guests age 55 and better are expected to attend this year. Much of the cost of the event is underwritten by sponsors including Golden Sponsors First Midwest Bank and Walgreens. Silver, Contributing and Support Sponsors (see back page) also provide generously to the event along with many local businesses, townships, villages, and volunteers.

Dear Mr. Sherman,

Please allow me to introduce you to a fine lady who I believe deserves to be recognized during your annual Senior Day celebration for the outstanding contributions she regularly makes in honor of her fellow beings.

I became acquainted with Mrs. Ruth Shafer several years ago when I began working at Carmel House, a senior citizen's apartment building located in Zion. Although I have only known Ruth for four years, I count myself very lucky to be able to call her my friend.

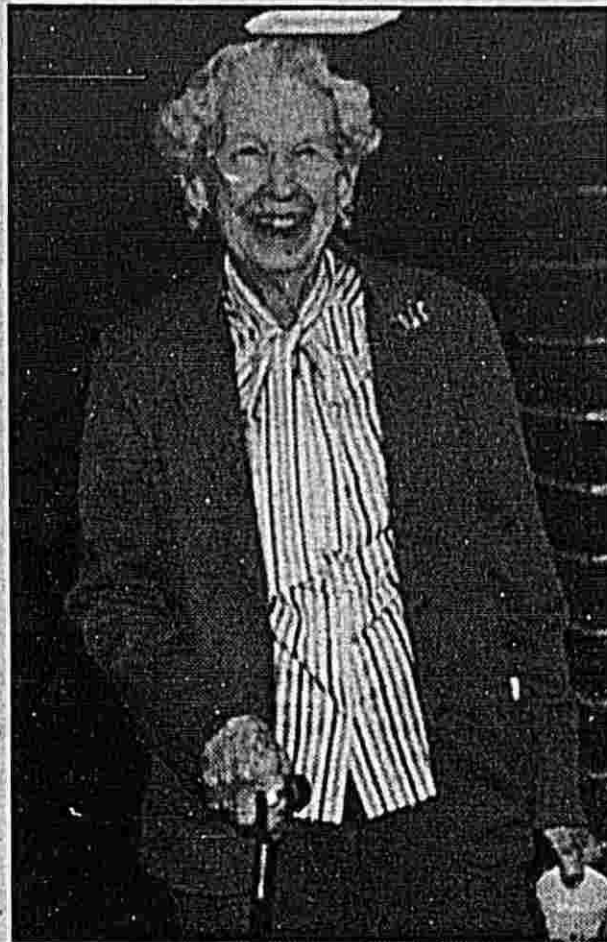

Ruth is one of the most active, on the go seniors that I know! And there isn't a more giving and caring individual alive. Just recently, Ruth donated her time filling thousands of Easter eggs for Zion's annual Easter Egg Hunt. And she was so sweet to point out that "I only ate two of the jelly beans myself."

Ruth is also very involved in volunteering her time in local schools. She goes to the school and spends her afternoon tutoring children that are having trouble reading. She recently has one little girl who was having a hard time and didn't really want the help that was being offered to her. I ask Ruth if she ever felt like giving up and she said, "Yes, sometimes I do, but I refuse to give up on her because if I don't care, nobody else will." I think that statement alone can tell you what a special person Ruth is!

The most amazing part of this is the fact that Ruth doesn't drive. She gives of herself so much to others and never asks for anything in return. Ruth loves the colors violet and teal and my young daughter saw a beautiful crocheted doll in those colors and insisted we get it for Ruth. When we gave it to her she said, "Oh my word that is the most precious thing anyone has ever given me" we gave her the doll to make her feel special and she ended up making us feel special with her reaction. That is Ruth. You can't be around her without knowing what a truly kind soul she is, inside and out, through and through.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to share a treasure with you.

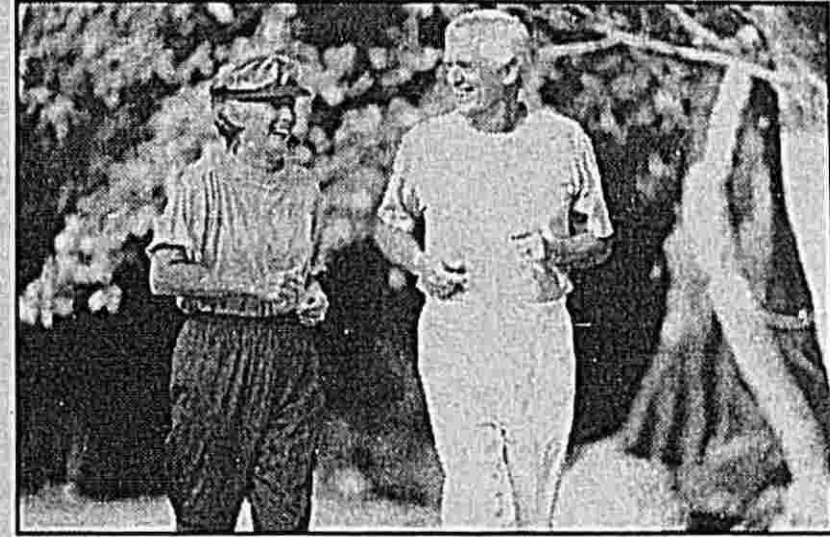

Sincerely,
Shannon

Ruth Shafer, 93 years old

Kuxhouse wins again; Moulis second

By PUAL KUYAWA
Wilmot Correspondent

With Johnsbury's Dave Moulis in tow, Tim Vandervere of Beach Park took an early lead and made it stand. The second generation Vandervere showed Moulis he was up to the task as he was able to hold the perennial track champ at bay through lap six. The caution came out on lap six with Vandervere leading, followed by Moulis and Burlington's John Tierney.

When racing resumed, the young Vandervere looked fast and poised with Moulis and Tierney going wing to wing in a torrid battle for the runner up spot. Pleasant Prairie's Jeff Ferkin moved into third place after starting 11th. The caution came out again with 10 laps to go. For Vandervere, this was a welcome sight as he and Moulis were starting to encounter heavy lapped traffic.

This set up a 10-lap dash for the win. Vandervere continued his race leading pace as the laps started to dwindle. Moulis continued to apply pressure to the Vandervere but couldn't quite pull it off. Vandervere was able to put a little room between himself and Moulis with five laps to go. Vandervere held on for a well-deserved, first career A-main victory over Moulis. Ferkin was third, followed Tierney and Mike Dubs, also from Beach Park.

Antioch's Scott Kuxhouse was victorious for the second week in a row in the IMCA Modified feature race. Hebron's Lee Tibbitts took the early lead and survived an infinite amount of cautions in the lead until Jim Morrison, also of Antioch, took over at the halfway point of the race. Kuxhouse and Morrison had quite a spirited duel going on until a late race caution came out for removal of infield tires from the race track.

Kuxhouse, who started 17th, worked his way into the lead with five to go over Morrison and Tibbitts and held off all comers as the race was ruled complete after 16 laps due to time constraints.

Kuxhouse showed why he is in a class by himself at Wilmot. The defending IMCA champion came through the pack like a hot knife through butter. Morrison was second, followed by Genoa City's Nick Simons, Tibbitts and Trevor's Mike Sullivan.

"The track was real tacky and the car was hooked up real good on the bottom, Morrison was fast on the top and I sure had a good car down low good," said Kuxhouse.

In the Hobby Stock feature, it was Bristol's Ken Netzel taking the win over Jim Scanlon of Pleasant Prairie. An action-packed race saw Netzel lead from the halfway point until the checkers. Scanlon nipped South Beloit's William Groleau at the finish. Rounding out the top-five was Bobby Frisch, also from South Beloit, and James Coots Jr. of Sharon (Wis.).

Kenosha's Aaron Holmes was the winner of the first 'Locomotion' dance contest of the year. The eight-year showed the fans of the Wilmot Speedway that he was up to the task as he was victorious over a stellar field of dance contestants.

All divisions will be back in action Saturday, June 14. Grandstands open at 5 p.m. with racing starting at 7. For up to the minute reports feel free to call the Wilmot Speedway at 262-862-2446 or visit the clay center of speed on the net at www.wilmotspeedway.com. The King of Wisconsin/Wayne Daun Memorial sprint car race is set for June 28.

Are backpacks hazardous to your child's health?

As my son progressed in school and academic requirements increased, so did the number of books that he carried with him every day in his backpack. I always felt that the weight of all those books was too much for a young person to carry, and as the number of books increased every year, so did my concern that this could be detrimental to his back and posture.

When I was in school, a backpack was reserved for hikers. I carried my books and my three-ring notebook in my arms. There didn't seem to be so many books. The load was manageable. What my son was now carrying, was difficult even for me to lift, and I questioned him about his "having to" carry so many books.

Worse was the issue that throughout his attendance at Stevenson High School, because of the school's enormity, Jonathan could not get to his locker and to his next class before the tardy bell rang. Along with all the other students with the same problem, he was forced to carry all his books on his back, from class to class, all day long.

If you happen to be a parent who, like me, is not happy with the fact that your child is carrying around a much too heavy backpack, your concern is justified. Scientific research has identified disturbing problems resulting from the improper use of childhood backpacks. The research stems from an increasing number of reports during the past decade of children complaining of neck and low-back pain.

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission statistics reveal that between January 1, 1994 and December 31, 2000, there were an estimated 23,036

ON CALL

emergency room treated injuries associated with book bags or back carriers for ages 6 to 18. Approximately 26% of these estimated injuries were to the neck, shoulder, upper trunk, or lower trunk. Over half of those injuries occurred while the patient was carrying, lifting or picking up a backpack, removing it or when the backpack fell off the patient's shoulder.

Chiropractors and pediatricians point to recent worldwide studies that clearly indicate a rising number of injuries directly associated with the improper use of backpacks. The International Chiropractic Pediatric Association reports that by end of their teen years, close to 60 percent of youths experience at least one low-back pain episode.

One of the major problems stems from children who bend sideways under the weight of an overloaded backpack carried on one shoulder. This load, distributed improperly or unevenly, carried day after day, causes stress to a growing spine. Hauling a heavy backpack over one shoulder may cause serious postural misalignments. These postural imbalances can set off a condition called vertebral subluxation. This is when areas in the spine become dysfunctional and the vertebrae are pushed out of alignment. The child is then predisposed to neck and back pain, disc herniation (slipped disc) and even osteoarthritis.

Dr. Mitchell Katz, a doctor of chiropractic medicine in Highland Park, has long waged a war against the effect of backpacks on children's backs. He advises parents to be aware that "not all pain in children is growing pains" and that "backpacks may be hazardous to your health. . . children should not be lugging around these books with this amount of weight all day long." Dr. Katz finds one of the major problems is in the design of the backpack itself: the backpacks the children are using are not designed to carry this great amount of weight. As a result the weight is not distributed properly, and the child has to bend forward to counteract the force of the weight of the books pulling him backward. "It actually rounds the shoulders to counteract the force pulling you back."

I now know that this is fact. After doing the research to write this article, I can attest to the fact that my son walked round shouldered. I would always tell him to stand up straight, but he didn't listen to me; nor would he listen to me when I told him not to carry around so many books in his backpack. I can only hope that now that he's going off to college, he will no longer have to walk around school all day with all the contents of his locker on his back.

In the meanwhile, here are some suggestions from Dr. Katz and the International Chiropractic Pediatric Association that you as parents may want to take into consideration:

The proper maximum weight for loaded backpacks should not exceed 15% of the child's body weight. For example, an 80-pound child should not carry more than—12 pounds on his back.

If affordable, buy two copies of the textbook, one for home and one to remain at school, or photocopy the pages needed for that day's lesson so your child won't—have to carry the entire book.

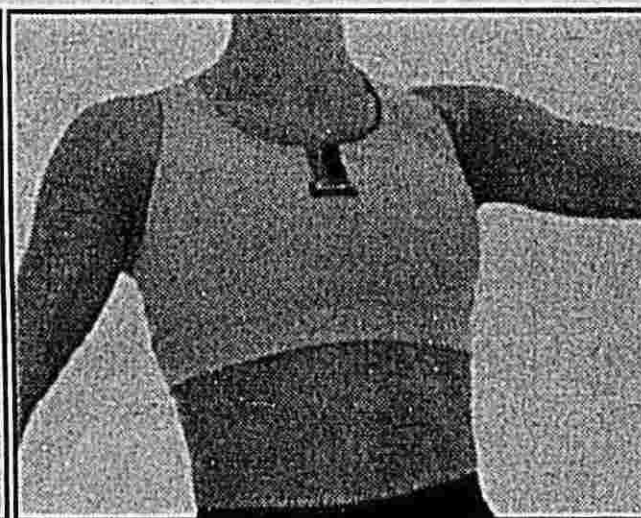

Choose a backpack with padded shoulder straps that fits your child's size. A pack that is too large will sag down below the waist, stressing the child's lower back and shoulders.

Teach your child to always lift with the legs, not the back.

Your child needs to carefully put one shoulder strap on at a time. He should—never sling the pack onto one shoulder.

Where have all the parents gone?

Hi Dr. Singer,

I wondered if you had heard the story about the parents in (I think it was) Naperville who had a party with a beer keg for their teenagers and had the gall and stupidity to call the police to ask if it was o.k. if the kids parked up the whole street in the interest of letting them drink as much as they wanted to and making sure they didn't drive. They gave their names and soon after the call, the police came there to arrest them for allowing minors to drink on their property. I was dumbfounded by this story wondering how parents could be so unintelligent at so many levels. Let's forget about the fact that they set themselves up to have charges filed against them, but what about the damage all the drinking is doing to kids these days and here are these parents who are helping their kids do that damage. My kids know that if I ever caught them with alcohol or drinking alcohol, they would not see the light of day for quite some time and they are all fine and straight. What is going on with so many parents today?

Hi S.A.T.,

I did hear some bits and pieces about this although I was on my way out of the car when it was on talk radio so I have to admit I didn't get all of it. Your call filled it in nicely for me. I cannot tell you if it was Naperville or not but I can tell you that I agree that the move was pretty ridiculous on the part of these parents but it just shows you how brazen and out of touch some parents can be. I also heard a woman call in to talk radio who said that her parents purposely got both her and her brother drunk as teenagers on purpose to teach them what it felt like to be drunk before going to College so they wouldn't be curious. At the time of the call the caller told the hosts that she continues to drink with her parents. What a warm wonderful relationship to be proud of. Yeah right! Sometimes I just sit and scratch my head when I hear these things. Sometimes it's all you can do!

PARENT'S PLACE

Here is my theory: These are Woodstock generation parents who are too old to party like the old days and so they do it vicariously through their kids. These are the same people who would tell you that "your kids will do it anyway behind your back so why try to use discipline for this...at least this way you can watch them and make sure they are o.k."

Whenever I hear any parent say that, I think it is an excuse. That is a parent who doesn't want to expend the effort it would take to take a stand with their kids. These are also parents who find it more important to be popular with their kids than to make sure their kids are safe and taken care of. Discipline is hard work. Drinking and supplying beer isn't.

I was also a kid whose parents laid down the law about drugs and alcohol. They were the only parents that were that strict of any of my friend's parents and I was just about the only one in our group of friends who not only wouldn't touch any drugs or alcohol, but was actually afraid of even being around it. My parents instilled it so well in me that I still feel guilty when I'm around it now. My parents did nothing abusive or even out of the ordinary. They just let me know since I was very young that it was not acceptable and I didn't want to know what waited for me on the other side of that bad decision. It worked and would work just as well today for any parent who tried it.

The problem is that many parents don't even try. They just figure that if they are involved in it somehow their kid is safer than if they weren't involved. Again, garbage! Let's look at some reasons why a parent condoning drinking is so bad:

- If kids think parents accept it, there will be no reason to stop or control oneself. We all know that heavy drinking can lead to alcoholism and eventually complete failure or death.

- Kids don't always know to control themselves and sometimes show off or don't stop until it is too late. I watched kids almost die in College from using "beer bong" and ingesting huge amounts of alcohol all at once.

- The physical toll that drinking has is amazing and can happen quickly.
- Out of control behavior is far more possible with alcohol involved. Let's ask the kids from Glenbrook North what their perspective is of that idea.
- Inhibitions are gone when one drinks. Teenage pregnancy is a huge problem. So is teenage AIDS. You do the math!

You are clearly a good parent. The 2 signs I have of that are one...your complete revulsion at the thought process or lack thereof of those beer supplying parents and two...the fact that you set strong limits with your kids and lay down the law about things like drinking. There are still some of us out there like that. You know the "fuddy duddy's." Keep up the good work! Your kids will thank you when they are not failing in life because of alcoholism. Your kids will thank you when they can take responsibility for their behavior which will lead to much more happiness than the kids raised the other way will have. Trust me on that one!

Drinking grape juice may reduce blood pressure in hypertensive men

Drinking Concord grape juice may reduce blood pressure in hypertensive men, according to results from a preliminary study presented at Experimental Biology 2003. In the study, men with elevated blood pressure who drank Concord grape juice for twelve weeks experienced a five-point drop in both their systolic and diastolic blood pressures versus no significant change in the group drinking a placebo.

"This is one of the first randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled studies to use a whole juice -- in this case, Concord grape juice," explains study author Kevin Maki, Ph.D., Director, Nutrition and Metabolism Research Unit, Radiant Research, Chicago. "In our study, blood pressure was measured as part of the basic health information of the study participants. When we reviewed the data, we saw reductions of nearly six points in both systolic and diastolic blood pressure measurements among the hypertensive men drinking Concord grape juice. Those on the calorie-matched placebo showed no significant change."

The study, presented at the annual meeting of the Federation for American Societies of Experimental Biology (FASEB), looked at 80 healthy males, ages 45 to 70. For 12 weeks, half drank an average of 12 ounces of Concord grape juice per day and half drank the same amount of a placebo beverage designed to look and taste like grape juice. The results presented at FASEB looked at the 19 Concord grape juice drinking and the 17 placebo drinkers who started the study with above-median blood pressure.

"While additional studies are necessary to confirm these results, it is exciting that drinking Concord grape juice every day may be an easy way for hypertensive individuals to significantly lower their blood pressure," notes Maki.

The U.S. National High Blood Pressure Education Program estimates that lowering systolic blood pressure by five points would result in a 14 percent reduction in deaths from stroke and a nine percent reduction from heart disease.

The study authors point to two previous clinical studies showing that consuming Concord grape juice improved arterial wall flexibility (demonstrated by increased flow-mediated vasodilation) as suggesting a possible mechanism of action for the reduced blood pressure. Recent research has also shown the ability of purple grape juice to slow the oxidation of LDL cholesterol as well as inhibit the tendency of blood to clot. Both functions contribute to maintaining healthy cardiovascular function.

Employers Seek Childlike Innocence

By Scott T. Fleischmann

When my oldest daughter was about 5 years old she asked me to take the training wheels off of her bicycle. She had been riding it for almost two years and seemed to have excellent control of the quadricycle. After two or three times around the block she asked me to let go of the handlebars and let her steer. I did that, about a week later. She guided the bike two more corners before she asked me to let go of the back of the seat. This time it took me about two weeks before I had the confidence to let her go solo.

As she turned through the first corner I watched in fear as she overturned into a large hedge. When I had dashed the hundred yards to the site, I saw that she had landed in the center of the three-foot wide obstacle. I cringed as I helped her and her bike out of the shrubbery. Scraped and bruised she looked directly at me with her tear filled eyes and said "That was a good experience." as she got on her bike and peddled away.

This experience taught me a lot about life. Specifically, as it relates to our work life, it illustrates some of the attitudes that employers look for in employees. Firstly, you'll notice that she was doing as much as possible on her own. Employers appreciate independence. Those who decide to do as much as possible on their own require less supervision and are usually more productive. Those who are autonomous are also willing to take calculated risks. They are confident in their ability to get the desired results most of the time. But they also understand that although the consequences may be painful most negatives can be corrected relatively easily.

Secondly, employers look for people who want to learn in negative circumstances. Mistakes have no value if we don't learn from them. However, some people learn only how to blame others. My daughter could have easily said "Dad you should have known that I wasn't ready to drive solo yet." (Without her reprimand I had to rebuke myself.) But she chose to take responsibility for the mistake and move on. She never drove into that hedge again.

Finally, good managers want employees who can recover from a mistake and get right back on the bike and ride off into the sunset. Too many of us become overly concerned of causing another error and choose to avoid trying. We help neither our employers nor ourselves by shying away from responsibility. Unless one determines that more education, skills or knowledge is needed before trying again, it is best to do that as soon as possible. Unfortunately, many of these attitudes are learned at a young age. But it is never too late to develop a new perspective. The goal of becoming a more desirable employee is worth the effort.

Fox Lake IL0970200 Annual Drinking Water Quality Report
For the period of January 1 to December 31, 2002
This report is intended to provide you with important information about your drinking water and the efforts made by the Fox Lake water system to provide safe drinking water. The source of drinking water used by Fox Lake is ground.
For more information regarding this report, contact: Fox Lake Sewer & Water Department 847-587-4671 or e-mail petersok@foxlake.org
Este Informe contiene informacion muy importante sobre el agua que usted bebe. Traduzcalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

ABOUT OUR WATER SYSTEM

In 1928 the Village of Fox Lake Public Water System was put into service. The system supplied potable water to our residents from RT. 12 & Grand Ave. to Washington St. & Rollins Rd. The system also supplied potable water north up Forest Ave. to Lakeview Ave. & Howard Ave. The distribution system was comprised of a 60,000 gallon water tower floating over 8'x6" cast iron water mains. Well #1 located on Ernest Ave. supplied all the village's treated water until 1941.

Well #2 located 25 feet south of Well #1 was put into service in 1941. Iron removal filters were required to reduce the iron concentration to an acceptable limit.

In 1976 a new 500,000 gallon water tower and Well #3 located at 301 S. Rt. 59 (just behind the Village Hall) was put into service. Well #3 along with Wells #1&2 supplied all the Village's potable water until 1988.

Well #4 located at 100 Industrial Blvd. was put into service in 1988. Not unlike Well #2 Iron Removal Filters were required to reduce the treated waters iron concentration to an acceptable limit.

In 1999 a 250,000-gallon water tower was constructed to replace the 60,000-gallon tower on Ernest Ave.

Today our Water System supplies 500,000 to 1,000,000 gallons of potable water per day for over 5,000 Village residents, and our water system now reaches as far south as Rt. 134 & Rt. 12. Wells #1,2,3,4 supply all of the Village's treated water.

Water from Well #1 is pumped and blended with filtered water from Well #2. Polyphosphates are added for corrosion control, followed by the addition of fluorine to help control tooth decay, chlorine is then added for disinfection.

Water from Well #4 is pumped and filtered for iron, polyphosphates are added for corrosion control, followed by the addition of fluorine to help prevent tooth decay, chlorine is then added for disinfection.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk.

Sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include:

Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock and wildlife.

Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining or farming.

Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agricultural and residential uses.

Radioactive contaminants, which are naturally occurring.

Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems.

In order to ensure that your water is safe to drink, the I.E.P.A. prescribes regulations limiting the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by Public Water Systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water, which must provide the same protection for public health.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

WATER QUALITY DATA TABLE FOOTNOTES
There is not a state or federal MCL for sodium. Monitoring is required to provide information to consumers and health officials that are concerned about sodium intake due to dietary precautions. If you are on a sodium-restricted diet, you should consult a physician about this level of sodium in water.
Note: The state requires monitoring of certain contaminants less than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants do not change frequently. Therefore, some of this data may be more than a year old.

COPPER

Copper is an essential nutrient, but some people who drink water containing copper in excess of the action level over a relatively short amount of time could experience gastrointestinal distress. Some people who drink water, containing copper in excess of the action level over many years could suffer liver or kidney damage. People with Wilson's Disease should consult their personal doctor.

Samples taken on 12/31/2002 show 1 sample site to exceed the action limit for copper. The Fox Lake Water & Sewer Department is now adding a chemical known as Aqua Mag®. The addition of this chemical in other Water Systems has effectively controlled red water in the distribution system and has also been found to protect plumbing from the corrosive effects of some waters.

LEAD

Infants and young children are typically more vulnerable to lead in drinking water than the general population. It is possible that lead levels at your home may be higher than the other homes in the community as a result of materials used in your home's plumbing. If you are concerned about elevated lead levels in your home's water, you may wish to have your water tested and flush your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using tap water. Additional information is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Samples taken on 12/31/2002 show 8 sample sites to exceed the action limit for lead. The Fox Lake Water & Sewer Department is now adding a chemical known as Aqua Mag®. The addition of this chemical in other Water Systems has effectively controlled red water in the distribution system and has also been found to protect plumbing from the corrosive effects of some waters.

2002 Violation Summary Table

Our water system violated drinking water standards over the past year. Even though these were not emergencies, as our customers, you have the right to know what happened and what we did to correct these situations.

We are required to monitor your drinking water for specific contaminants on a regular basis. Results of regular monitoring are an indicator of whether or not our drinking water meets health standards. During January 1, 2003 through March 31, 2003 we did not monitor or test for Volatile Organic Chemicals and therefore cannot be sure of the quality of our drinking water during that time.

The table below lists the contaminant we did not properly test for during the last year, how often we are supposed to sample for this contaminant, how many samples we are supposed to take, how many samples we took, when samples should have been taken, and the date on which follow-up samples were taken.

Contaminant Name	Sample Frequency	# of Samples	When samples should have been taken	When samples were taken
VOC	Once Every Quarter	One	between 01/01/03 and 03/31/03	05/07/03

The Sewer & Water Department rarely misses a sample, but in error this sample was not taken. Samples have since been taken and the Sewer & Water Department has taken steps to eliminate this occurrence from happening again.

2001 Source Water Assessment Summary

The Village of Fox Lake (Facility Number 0970200) utilize three active public water supply wells. Well #1 (Illinois EPA #20005), well #2 (Illinois EPA #20006), and well #4 (Illinois EPA #00220) distribute 599,000 gallons per day on average to an estimated population of 3,789 at 1,275 service connections. Based on information obtained in a Well Site Survey published in 1992 by the Illinois EPA, twenty-six potential sources or possible problem sites were identified within the survey area of Fox Lake's wells. Furthermore, information provided by the Leaking Underground Storage Tank and Remedial Project Management Sections of the Illinois EPA indicated several additional sites with ongoing remediations, which may be of concern.

The Illinois EPA has determined that the Fox Lake's wells #1 and #2 source water is not susceptible to contamination. However, the source water obtained from Well #4 is susceptible to contamination. This determination is based on a number of criteria including: monitoring conducted at the wells; monitoring conducted at the entry point to the distribution system; and the available hydrogeologic data on the wells. The Illinois Environmental Protection Act provides minimum protection zone of 400 feet for Fox Lake well #4 and 200 feet for well #1 and #2. These minimum protection zones are regulated by the Illinois EPA.

To further minimize the risk to the groundwater supply, the Illinois EPA recommends that six additional activities be assessed.

First, the village should obtain aquifer property data and groundwater flow direction information so the recharge area for the villages Well #4 can be mapped. This information can be obtained by completing pump tests on the CWS well and completing mass water level measurements on wells finished in the aquifer utilized by Well #4.

Upon completing this effort, the Village may wish to enact a "Maximum setback zone" ordinance(s) to further protect their water supply. These ordinances are authorized by the Illinois Environmental Protection Act and allow county and municipal officials the opportunity to provide additional protection up to a fixed distance, normally 1,000 feet, from their well.

Third, the village should explore the options of either properly abandoning inactive Well #3 or retrofitting it for use as a source of water supply. Inactive wells that are not properly abandoned can act as direct conduits for surficial contaminants into the aquifer and are considered "potential routes of groundwater contamination" under the Environmental Protection Act.

Fourth, the water supply staff may wish to revisit their contingency planning documents. Contingency planning documents are a primary means to ensure that, through emergency preparedness, a village will minimize their risk of being without safe and adequate water.

Fifth, the water supply staff is encouraged to review their cross connection control program to ensure that it remains current and viable. Cross connections to either the water treatment plant (for example, at bulk water loading stations) or in the distribution system may negate all source water protection initiatives provided by the village.

Finally, the Illinois EPA recommends that the village investigate additional source water protection management options to address land use activities within the recharge area of Well #4. Specifically, these management options must include potential impacts from point and nonpoint sources of groundwater contamination.

Village Board Meetings

The Village Board meets on the second, third, and fourth Tuesdays of every month at 7:00 pm at the Village Hall located at 301 S. RT 59.

The Sewer & Water Committee meet on the third Tuesday of each month at 6:30 pm at the Village Hall. Please feel free to attend these meetings.

A Few Words From the Sewer & Water Dept.

The Sewer & Water Dept. flush the fire hydrants twice a year, once in the spring and again in the fall. This flushing is required to insure our fire hydrants are working properly and to clean the water mains of sediments that cause red water and odor problems. This can be difficult in some areas of the Village due to hilly terrain. Our employees are very concerned about where the discharged water ends up. For the properties that receive some of this water, please except our deepest apologies.

Fox Lake IL0975780 Annual Drinking Water Quality Report
For the period of January 1 to December 31, 2002
This report is intended to provide you with important information about your drinking water and the efforts by the Fox Lake water system to provide safe drinking water. The source of drinking water used by Fox Lake is ground.

For more information regarding this report, contact: Fox Lake Sewer & Water Department 847-587-4671 or e-mail petersok@foxlake.org.

ABOUT OUR WATER SYSTEM

In 1972 the Leisure Technologies completed construction on the Tall Oaks Public Water Supply, now known as the Fox Lake Water System #2. This new water system supplied potable water to the Leisure Village and Vacation Village Home Owners Associations.

The Water treatment facility, located on Grass Lake Road one half mile east of State Park Road, consisted of a 500,000 gallon ground reservoir, one shallow well, and three high pressure booster pumps. The distribution system consisting of 10", 8", and 6" water main, serviced all of the Leisure Village and Vacation Village area.

Well #1 was drilled to a depth of 146 feet in 1972 and produced 1500 gallons per minute. At present this well produces 350 gpm and is treated with sodium hypochlorite for disinfection, and hydrofluosilicic acid to help prevent tooth decay. The treated water from well #1 is then pumped into the ground reservoir.

In the fall of 1976 well #2 was drilled to a depth of 133 feet and produced 730 gallons per minute.

With the high iron content in both Wells 1&2 an iron removal filtration system was installed in 1989 to lower the iron content in your drinking water to an acceptable limit.

At present this well produces 650 gpm. This water is filtered of iron then treated with gas chlorine for disinfection, and hydrofluosilicic acid to help prevent tooth decay. The treated water is then pumped to the reservoir for storage before entering the distribution system.

The Tall Oaks Water System now supplies potable water to not only Leisure Village and Vacation Village, but also to Hickory Cove, East and West Dunns Lake Subdivisions, Woodland Green, and Reva Bay Subdivisions.

The Tall Oaks Public Water System is now treating approximately 200,000 gallons of water per day in the cool months of the year and approximately 400,000 gallons during the warm months of the year.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate the water poses a health risk.

Sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include:

Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock and wildlife.

Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining or farming.

Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture and residential uses.

Radioactive contaminants, which are naturally occurring. Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems.

In order to ensure that your water is safe to drink, the I.E.P.A. prescribes regulations limiting the amount of certain contaminants in the water provided by Public Water System. All water treatment and the Operation & Maintenance of our Water System is performed according to all I.E.P.A. regulations.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water with their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The Illinois EPA has determined that the source water obtained from Fox Lake Plant 2 wells #1 and #2 is susceptible to contamination. This determination is based on a number of criteria including: monitoring conducted at the wells; monitoring conducted at the entry point to the distribution system; and the available hydrogeologic data on the wells. The Illinois Environmental Protection Act provides a minimum protection zone of 400 feet for Fox Lake Plant 2 wells #1 and #2. Minimum protection zones are regulated by the Illinois EPA. To further minimize the risk to the groundwater supply, the Illinois EPA recommends that five additional activities be assessed.

First, the subdivision should obtain aquifer property data and groundwater flow direction information so the recharge area for the subdivision Wells #1 and #2 can be mapped. This information can be obtained by completing pump tests on the CWS wells and completing mass water level measurements on wells finished in the aquifer utilized by Wells #1 and #2.

Upon completing this effort, the subdivision may wish to petition county and local officials to enact a "maximum setback zone" ordinance(s) to further protect their water supply. These ordinances are authorized by the Illinois Environmental Protection Act and allow county and municipal officials the opportunity to provide additional protection up to a fixed distance, normally 1,000 feet, from their wells.

Third, the water supply staff may wish to revisit their contingency planning documents. Contingency planning documents are a primary means to ensure that, through emergency preparedness, a water corporation will minimize their risk of being without safe and adequate water.

Fourth, the water supply staff is encouraged to review their cross connection control program to ensure that it remains current and viable. Cross connections to either the water treatment plant (for example, at bulk water loading stations) or in the distribution system may negate all source water protection initiatives provided by the water corporation.

Finally, the Illinois EPA recommends that the subdivision investigate additional source water protection management options to address land use activities within the recharge areas of Wells #1 and #2. Specifically, these management options must include potential impacts from point and nonpoint sources of groundwater contamination.

Village Board Meetings

The Village Board meets on the second, third and fourth Tuesdays of each month at 7:00 pm at the Village Hall located at 301 S. RT 59.

The Sewer & Water Committee meet on the third Tuesday of each month at 6:30 pm at the Village Hall. Please feel free to attend these meetings.

A few Words From The Water & Sewer Dept.

The Sewer & Water Department flush the fire hydrants twice a year, once in the spring and again in the fall. This flushing is required to insure our fire hydrants are working properly and to clean the water mains of sediments that cause red water and odor problems. This can be difficult in some areas of the Village due to the hilly terrain. Our employees are very concerned about where the discharged water ends up. For the properties that receive some of the water, please accept our deepest apologies.

If you have a question about your Sewer & Water Bill please call our office at 847-587-8393 or e-mail munoza@foxlake.org

All calls other than Billing are accepted at 847-587-6960 or 847-587-4671 or E-mail petersok@foxlake.org

WHAT IS FLAG DAY?

Flag Day is "a time to honor America," which has been celebrated on June 14 since May 30, 1916. The date was chosen because on June 14, 1777, John Adams introduced a resolution before the Continental Congress for a flag that would represent the United States. He described it as follows: "The flag of the thirteen United States shall be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, white on a blue field, representing a new constellation." Although the amount of stars has increased over the years, our flag still bears the red and white stripes of the original thirteen colonies.
